tern nations, and advocated immediate passage of a bill to give arms to soldiers. He was also active in the Council for National Defense and the American Red Cross.

Lane was a keen supporter of the League of Nations covenant, and advocated ratification of the peace treaty of Versailles.

In the summer of 1918 Lane recommended to the President the calling of a conference of representatives of American capital, labor and industry to discuss economic problems. The National Industrial Conference, of which Lane was made chairman, was the result. As chairman of the Railroad Wage Commission in 1918, he helped to settle a number of strikes and avert threatened walkouts.

Lane Frequently Visited California

In the last few years, whenever Franklin K. Lane could arrange it, he has come to California and to Berkeley. Frequently he has been the guest of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Frederick J. Lane of Piedmont, and of his sister, Mrs. M. A. Andersen of 25 Mather street, Oakland.

The former secretary's falling health had long been a cause for the deep concern of his friends. It is remembered that upon the occasion of his last visit here in an official capacity, in 1919, he was almost overcome by a heart attack. Since his retirement from public life, a little more than a year ago, he was forced many times to take to his bed and to spend long weeks in hospitals and sanitariums.

As a high school boy Franklin K. Lane came to Oakland from Napa. He attended the Oakland high school, working during his spare time on various newspapers about the bay and later went to the University of California, where he was a member of the class of 1889.

Impressive Tribute Paid By Lane to Abe Lincoln

A tribute to Abraham Lincoln, written by Franklin K. Lane, is said by friends of the former secretary of the interior to be the finest of the many impressive sentiments that came from his pen. Lane held an abiding love for Lincoln and for the America the martyred president personified. The Lane tribute, which hangs on the wall of Gavin McNab's office in San Francisco beside a picture of the St. Gaudens statue of Lincoln, follows:

I never pass through Chicago without visiting the statue of Lincoln by St. Gaudens and standing before it for a moment unmoved. It is to me all that America is, physically and spiritually. I look at those long arms and long legs, large hands and feet, and I think that they represent the physical strength of this new country, its power and its mutual awkwardness. Then I look up at the head and see qualities which have made the American—the strong chin, the noble brow, those so-called steady eyes. They were the eyes of one who saw with sympathy and interpreted with common sense. They were the eyes of earnest idealism limited and checked by the possible and the practicable. They were the eyes of a truly humble spirit, whose ambition was not for power but a desire to be supremely useful. They were eyes of compassion and mercy and deep understanding. They saw far more than they looked at. They believed in far more than they saw. They loved men not for what they were but for what they might become. They were patient eyes, eyes that would wait and wait and live on in the faith that life could win. They were eyes which challenged the nobler things in men and brought out the hidden largeness. They were humorous eyes that saw things in their true proportion and in their real relationship. They looked through cant and pretence and the great and little vanities of great and little men. They were the eyes of an unflinching courage and an unflinching faith, rising out of a sincere dependence upon the Master of the Universe. To believe in Lincoln is to learn to look through Lincoln's eyes.

The Alumni Association of the University of California took a great interest in Lane and upon many occasions he was the speaker at university meetings. It was while he was secretary of the interior that Lane was honored by being Charles Day speaker at the Greek theater.

After leaving the university Lane attended Hastings Law College and then went to Tacoma. He returned to California and made his home for a number of years on Gough street in San Francisco.

Lane's daughter, Mrs. Philip Kaufman, as Miss Nancy Lane was one of the belles of Washington during the days her father was a member of the cabinet. It was she who "kidnaped" the Prince of Wales from a formal dinner and introduced him to the younger Washington set at a dance in the capital. Miss Virginia Lane, prominent at the University of California, is a niece. Mrs. Lane, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Kaufman and the only son, Franklin K. Lane Jr., were with Lane when he died.

Much of Lane's business interests has been centered at Chicago, and it is there that the remains are to be taken and that the funeral services are to be held.

Half-Mast Flags Tribute to Lane

Flags on public buildings in San Francisco were ordered at half mast today by Mayor Rolph out of respect to the memory of Franklin K. Lane, former secretary of the interior and

PHILOSOPHICAL VIEW OF DEATH TAKEN BY LANE

Writes Before Operation That
"Lead Kindly Light" Is His Gospel.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—Franklin K. Lane viewed death philosophically, and during the period of his apparent convalescence he embodied his thoughts on the subject in a letter he wrote to a few personal friends, among them being Isadore Dockweiler of Los Angeles, Democratic member of the California legislature, and under the keen business management of Descamps, raked in the paper francs. Descamps is working with Carpenter on a 40 per cent agreement.

"I need not tell you that the whole performance was managed with considerable skill," his letter continued, "and Mr. Will Mayo was to use the knife." On the whole, it was what the society reporter would call a "recherché affair." . . .

"I have seen death come to men in various ways, some rather novel and western. I once saw a man hang. And I have seen several men shot, and came very near going out that way myself two or three times, but always the other fellow aimed poorly. I was being shot at because I was a newspaperman, and I should have been shot at. There must be public concern in what is printed, as well as the truth to justify it. That is something that newspapers should get to know in this country. After the earthquake in San Francisco, I saw walls topple out upon a man, and I have more intimate glimpses still of the picturesque and of the prosaic ways by which men come to their taking off.

"But never before have I been called upon to deliberately walk into the valley of the shadow, and say what you will, it is a great act. There was a long ray of light leading from my bed to my door. I had opened my eyes. I had not died—I had come through the Valley. In the broad part of the ray was my wife smiling, and stretching out that unreachable door were others whom I recognized, all smiling. Things were dim, but the mind seemed definite."

Carpentier Worth $200,000 Made In a Few Years

PARIS, May 18.—Georges Carpentier, who emerged from the war ruined and practically penniless, is now reported to be worth more than $200,000 francs, or a little over $200,000 in real money, all of which he has made since his fight with Joe Beckett.

All his property in Lievin, just outside of Lens, was destroyed during the war, and while mobilized he spent what savings he had to keep his mother and family, even getting into some debts, which his share of the purse for his fight with Dick Smith in June, 1919, just evened up. Carpentier toured Belgium, Holland, Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Switzerland, Northern Africa and Spain, and under the keen business management of Descamps, raked in the paper francs. Descamps is working with Carpenter on a 40 per cent agreement.

storm, with much blood spilled and terrific destruction of property. "I advised the Germans to remain quiet when I was in temporary possession of the called commission. Now it is a question how long they can be held back."

"The Germans are not well armed, but," the general smiled knowingly, "probably they can get arms in plenty."

"I'm following a straight line here, looking neither to right nor left. We were here to see that justice and right were done when the roles suddenly broke in on us. It was unwarranted."

The general stiffened when asked his opinion of the French course in Silesia.

"No food for the Poles if we die about," he stated.

Germans in the Polish region suffered with their enemies, but they held firm.

"With them," was the watchword. PLANS MADE TO STARVE INSURGENTS.

British officers suggested that refusal to move food trains was a "rightful" method of repressing the insurgents. They protested mildly at what they called a renewal of "schrecklichkeit."

"A German leader told the United Press, 'it is frightful. We know what a food blockade is because we had it during the war. But our own folks approve. We have no changes from everywhere in the occupied territory saying, 'God's sake, don't send any food. It would only prolong terrorism. We'd rather die of starvation than suffer the cruelty of their rule.'"

"We are willing to send milk trains for the sake of the babies, but the allies say we must send mixed foods. We won't do that."

VALLEJO ADVISED TO KEEP ALL ITS TIDELANDS CLEAR

City Attorney Would Refuse Temporary Tenancy To

VALLEJO, May 18.—City Attorney H. A. Ope has given a legal opinion that the city council should stand by the ordinances in effect and not allow Meyer Liberman or, in fact, any property owner to locate buildings onto the reclaimed tidelands at the foot of Georgia street. When she went out to bring in the clothes she found that all her lingerie was missing from the line. The police were notified and she values the garments at $75.

MURDER EFFORT
CHARGE LAID TO
INJURED DRIVER

Joseph Preston, in Hospital,
Is Accused of Shooting
At J. P. Warren.

LIVERMORE, May 18.—Joseph W. Preston, general manager of the K. D. Preston Winery, was arrested here today at the Livermore sanatorium by Justice of the Peace G. S. Fitzgerald, charged with assault to commit murder upon J. P. Warren, proprietor of a compactor agency at 544 Market street, San Francisco. Preston is in a critical condition from injuries incurred in an automobile accident May 10 near Altamont Pass, when Lowell G. Krigbaum was killed. Krigbaum was a San Francisco civil engineer. The charge of assault to commit murder against Preston is the outgrowth of an automobile accident which occurred a short time before the one in which Krigbaum was killed. According to Warren's complaint to Deputy District Attorney Frank Shay of Alameda county, who issued the warrant, the machine driven by Preston struck the car driven by Warren. Preston stopped from his car and entered into a quarrel with Warren, finally shoving him down an embankment and then grasping a rifle from his pocket and aiming it at Warren. Warren, as the latter ran through the underbrush to escape injury. Warren told Shay that Preston was under the influence of liquor when he fired the shot. The coroner's jury here today returned a verdict of "accidental death" in the case of Krigbaum, who was killed while riding with Preston. A bail was fixed at $3,000 for Preston.

Bill For Cattle
Is Cause of Clash

SACRAMENTO, May 18.—Dairy men and cattlemen clashed at a hearing before Governor W. D. Stephens yesterday on Senate Bill No. 38, which provides for the establishment under the supervision of the director of agriculture of a bureau of agriculture in an attempt to stamp out the disease among cattle. Cattlemen contended that the means provided in the bill afford no means of stamping out the disease among both dairy and beef cattle, while the cattlemen declared that if the bill became a law it would work a hardship upon them, inasmuch as they would have to dispose of diseased cattle without any compensation.

George Clough of San Francisco, attorney for the California Cattlemen's Association, led the fight for the bill. He was assisted by T. H. Ramsay, president of the cattlemen's association.

Merchants Told Alternative
Plan Jeopardizes Oakland's
Commerce and Industry

Before the members of the Merchants Exchange, last evening, Joseph R. Knowland, publisher of THE TRIBUNE, spoke in opposition to the submission of the so-called alternative in the proposed charter for city and county consolidation. His address follows:

Mr. Chairman and members of the Merchants Exchange: I wish first of all, Mr. Chairman, to express to the Merchants Exchange of Oakland, which organization I have the honor of being enrolled as a member, my sincere appreciation of the courtesy extended in permitting me to discuss this most important subject. The Merchants Exchange has always been willing to hear both sides of any public question, and has never taken snap judgment without permitting a presentation of all the facts.

As the head of an institution with upwards of $1,000,000 invested in this city, I am qualified to approach the subject as a merchant and taxpayer with my interest in the community and my concern in its future not subject to challenge.

Personally, I have no place in this discussion. The subject is too big, the outcome likely to be too far-reaching, to permit the question to descend to the level of a personal controversy. Individuals are insignificant when the welfare of the community is at stake. You are interested only in facts, which it is my purpose to present to the best of my ability.

WOULD MENACE GROWTH. I oppose the submission of the proposed charter for a consolidated city and county in the alternative because I am sincerely of the belief that such action would seriously menace the future growth and prosperity of this community; that it would result in county division; that it would encourage a feeling of resentment among the people in the localities adjacent to this, the chief city of the county, thus tending toward the destruction of that spirit of unity and cooperation which the Merchants Exchange and other organizations have for years been consistently and persistently endeavoring to develop and foster.

Instead of bringing the communities together the alternative proposal is likely to tear them apart, dividing the county into three or four separate units. Under its provisions the people of Alameda and Berkeley and the people of Oakland are actually disfranchised from voting directly upon the question of the consolidation of these three principal cities. Alameda and Berkeley will be required to approve a consolidation of the entire county.

ALTERNATIVE QUESTION. It was always my opinion, and the opinion of many others with whom I have discussed the question, that the intent of those who drafted the amendment was to provide the machinery whereby a consolidation of the various communities of Alameda county could be brought about when the people of these separate communities expressed a desire for such consolidation, the consent of each locality being required, thus insuring the right of self-determination on the part of each incorporated city and town in so far as the general consolidation is concerned, the amendment accomplishes this purpose.

A careful analysis of the law, unfortunately not made until after proceedings had been initiated, disclosed the astounding fact that in the submission of the main proposition for a consolidation of the entire county notice only could be given of the intent of the freeholders to submit the question in the alternative, and that the single city essential to be named, or possible to be named, was Oakland, and that Berkeley and Alameda could not be included unless they voted favorably upon the main and essentially different proposition, namely, the consolidation of the entire county.

Now what does this mean? Simply this, that if Alameda and Berkeley vote no on the main proposition, which is as certain as anything can be from local indications, and is generally admitted, the machinery for county division has been set in motion and the freeholders must proceed with the framing of a second charter for a city and county of Oakland, which would probably include Piedmont and Emeryville, the people of these two localities, by the way, being forced regardless of local sentiment to become a part of such a machine, as good citizens or good business for Oakland to force the city of Piedmont, the city of Emeryville, or any other small or large community into a consolidation against the will of the majority of the people of those localities, even though you may have the power?

PROVISION INSERTED. What becomes of Berkeley and Alameda? When the constitutional amendment was pending before the legislature a committee of prominent citizens from Berkeley went to Sacramento at the last minute and had inserted in the alternative a provision enabling the College City, in case that Oakland should form a separate city and county, to form a city and county of Berkeley alone, and there is no provision whereby Berkeley must secure the consent of any other section of the county under this alternative.

Before the members of the Merchants Exchange, last evening, Joseph R. Knowland, publisher of THE TRIBUNE, spoke in opposition to the submission of the so-called alternative in the proposed charter for city and county consolidation. His address follows:

SMALL CITIES
RESENT PLAN OF FORCED MERGER

Compulsion in Consolidation Plan Declared Menace To County Unity.

"Business men of Oakland, as represented by the membership of the Merchants Exchange, were warned last night of the menace to the city's commercial interests that lies in the alternative proposal for city and county government.

The subject of the alternative proposal and whether it should be submitted by the freeholders, was made the subject of a discussion between E. A. Vandeventer and Joseph R. Knowland, President Spiro presided.

PLAN IS CRITICIZED. The alternative plan, framed as it is so as to make impossible under existing conditions any concerted action of the municipal governments of the Eastbay section, can result only in county division, said Knowland. Three separate counties, if the plan is carried, appear certain and four are possible. It contemplates the forcing in of smaller municipalities against the will of the majority of the citizens, the creating of resentment and the encroaching of a feeling that cannot help but be reflected in terms of business.

"It is good morals or good business for Oakland to force even Piedmont and Emeryville into such a plan against the will of the people there?" Knowland asked the merchants. "Is it good policy to force Alameda out of the county because it may not favor consolidation? Would you destroy the spirit of unity which the Merchants Exchange and others have endeavored so long to develop?"

Knowland, in answer to Vandeventer's point that THE TRIBUNE had supported a general enabling act permitting the question of consolidation to be submitted when the people of the Eastbay cities were ready, declared that unfortunately no careful analysis of the law had been made until after proceedings had been started. It was then discovered, and not until then as admitted by many of the supporters of consolidation, that unless Alameda and Berkeley voted favorably upon the question of consolidation of the entire county they could not later be included in the alternative, thus being practically disfranchised, and further that the question of consolidation for a city and county of Oakland alone which would result in county division.

Vandeventer argued that after the people had voted on an election, if they saw that a city and county of Oakland was to be the result, that they could change their votes at the second election and stop what they had started.

"They can say," he said, "that this is not what we set out to get and so we are through."

PIEDMONT'S STAND. He referred to City of Piedmont, mayor of Piedmont, as a "San Francisco lawyer who sleeps on the east side of the bay" and said: "After THE TRIBUNE editor told the great wealth of Piedmont, the Piedmont Civic Association turned thumbs down on the proposal. The mayor of Piedmont had the impudence to say that the great wealth of Piedmont would be used to take the matter to the federal courts and show Oakland whether or not the change could be made."

Vandeventer said that Berkeley and Alameda would vote for the alternative but if they didn't Oakland wouldn't vote to go alone unless "the charter was a remarkable one." He

Cat Killed Pets, Man Kills
Cat and Judge Fines Killer

Because Daniel A. MacDonald, Claremont fancier of pedigreed rabbits, preferred to wreak vengeance on an offending black cat rather than accept payment for the rabbits the cat killed, he has lost the $50 at which he valued his pets, according to a decision by Judge Harry W. Puffer.

Also he is out $25 which he was fined in the police court for cruelty to animals. The cat, which is owned by Mrs. Campbell, 5380 Miles avenue, is reported as a discriminating animal. It made a practice of menacing to the home of MacDonald, 5363 Shafter avenue, more than 200 feet away, and slaying the latter's blue-ribbon "Checked Giant."

TRAINED OFFENDING CAT. MacDonald said he saw the cat kill a rabbit on two occasions, but was too late to interfere. On the third visit he followed the murderer in hot pursuit and overtook him in his lair on the Campbell's premises. He was hurrying away with his cap, but was caught when Campbell asked him where he was going with the cat.

"You are now looking on this cat for the last time," Mrs. Campbell testified he replied. Campbell at once offered to pay for the slaughtered rabbits, Mrs. Campbell said, but MacDonald declared that would not bring back the lives of his pets. Campbell then grabbed him by the arm and MacDonald, thinking an effort was to be made to rescue the cat, beat it into unconsciousness on the sidewalk.

FINED FOR CRUELTY. MacDonald was arrested on a charge of cruelty to animals, the evidence showed, and fined $25. Judge Puffer asked MacDonald why he did not accept the offer of the Campbell to pay for the rabbits and he said he was so angry he preferred to have vengeance on the cat. "Then," said the court, "you haven't been damaged, for you valued your vengeance more highly than you did the rabbits."

Judgment was given for the defendants. The decision included the statement that if MacDonald had merely refused to accept the proffered payment, without injuring the cat, this would not have barred him from collecting damages later, but when he trespassed on the Campbell's rights he waived his own claim.

FIRM ASKS U. S.
TO MAKE GOOD
LOSS ON SUGAR

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Claims of P. de Ronde & Co., New York importers, for government reimbursement because of losses sustained on 5000 tons of sugar bought in Argentina a year ago, were presented to the Senate agriculture committee.

Representatives of the de Ronde company told the committee that they purchased the sugar at the direction of the Department of Justice, which then was engaged in an attempt to drive down the cost of living. By the time the sugar reached the United States, they asserted, the bottom dropped out of the sugar market with the result that the company had lost $250,000.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—The House Naval Committee approved a bill authorizing the construction of a high-speed airplane carrier to cost approximately $25,000,000, and carry about eighty planes. Secretary Denby recommended immediate construction of such a ship.

Empty Lifeboat of Missing Tug Found

SAN DIEGO, May 18.—Mute evidence of the gallant fight made by the crew of the ill-fated United States naval tug Conestoga after their craft had foundered en route from Mare Island to Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, was found in an unturned life boat off the Lower California coast yesterday by the steamer Senator, according to a radiogram received by Rear-Admiral Roger W. Wilson from Captain S. H. of the Admiral line steamer.

Naval officers of the Eleventh naval district here say that unquestionably the lifeboat belonged to the Conestoga. The tug sailed from Mare Island March 27 with a 500-ton steel coal barge in tow and has never been heard of. It carried a crew of thirty officers and men, most of whom hailed from the Atlantic coast.

Bicycle Enthusiasts Line up For Saturday's Sociability Run

BIKE RIDE TO BE FROM PLAZA TO LAKESIDE PARK

Many School Children Will Join Throng and See
St. Onge's Stunts.

Lakeside Park has been selected as the terminus of the big sociability bicycle run of Saturday morning that will start from the Plaza, opposite the City Hall, at 10 o'clock, it was announced today.

Selection of this terminus will make the route one of level ground, eliminating any possible uphill climbs.

The cycle route follows:
Leave Plaza at 10 a. m. Saturday. Down Broadway to Thirteenth street, to Franklin street, to Thirteenth street, to Fallon street, to Pacific street, to Lakeside Boulevard, to Grand avenue, to the main entrance of Lakeside Park.

The run is not going to be a race, but a pleasure run, with hundreds of participants—boys and girls, men and women—and there is good reason for the selection of Lakeside Park as the terminus. On the Lakeside Boulevard there are St. Onge, dean of bicyclists, and the world's famous trick rider and advocate of the wheel, will have a suitable spot for his exhibition of trick bicycle performances that won him fame throughout the world.

SOCIABILITY BICYCLE.
It will be a fine place, moreover, for the serving of free ice cream to everybody on the run after their morning exercise. It will be a good level place, too, for the distributing of souvenirs, of which there will be at least seven. The main one of these will be a new up-to-date bicycle.

St. Onge has been wheeling for 24 years and is famed as a track or trick rider. The ranks of vaudeville held him for a long time, but now he is carrying the message of bicycle riding for the public good throughout the country. On the occasion of Saturday's sociability he will give some sensational demonstrations of fancy and trick riding and also show the proper bicycle riding form to most easily profit the machine and get the most healthful benefits from the exercise involved.

BACKED BY DEALERS.
The run which is held under St. Onge's supervision is being backed by the Oakland bicycle dealers. After visiting a number of Oakland schools today, St. Onge was enthusiastic over the public good that a crowd of entrants in Saturday's run. The school boys and girls are delighted with the event, he reported. He also found out that there are a number of bicycles in use in Oakland without his missionary efforts. At the Oakland high school, for instance, he said he saw 200 wheels parked about in the racks or in the basements and the principal for at least 100 entrants from that school are good.

St. Onge's visit here has already started up a vast amount of interest in bicycling, his high energy and attractive attention of old-timers who pedaled such vehicles long ago. Wherever he parks the 54-inch bike, a crowd gathers around it, including "old boys" who are telling the kids how they used to do it.

The high wheeler, it appears from their stories, was a great thing for steppe chase riding or hurdlings. The rider would make his way over a fence or obstacle, though the mount probably would not. Taking a "header" was a great sport in the ancient days of bike riding.

One of the many tricks Fred St. Onge, famed track and trick bicycle rider, will show to his converts at the end of the "bike run" at Lakeside Park Saturday morning.

What's Happening in the Motor World

The fifth anniversary theater party given last night at the Fulton by the Auto Electric Service Company was a very successful affair. Every one who attended had a good time. The play was an enjoyable one. After the play was over the party got real good.

Bud Landis, a live wire from the Chapman Willard station, was chosen to announce the winners of the prize. Between the award of each prize Landis injected a lot of comedy.

For those who had an automobile and were lucky the prizes came in handy. The first, a threaded rubber battery, was won by a party who did not have a machine. Ernest Peterson, manager of the Auto Electric Service Company, announced that she could have money equal to the price of the battery. The other prizes were a Kelly-Springfield tube, given by the Auto Electric Service Company; Stromberg carburetor, given by Chasler-Lyon Company, Oakland; Kelly-Springfield tube, given by the Auto Electric Service Company in Claremont; five gallons of oil, given by Brask Bros. & Bowlers; a $10 merchandise order by the Auto Electric Company of Alameda; inner tube, by William L. Hughes Company; battery recharger and rental, by the Downtown Battery station; Boyce Motorometer, by Auto Electric Service Company of Livermore; and a new battery, by Auto Electric Service Company at Seventh and Myrtle, Oakland.

REGARDING YOSEMITE ROADS.
During the past week of exceptionally favorable weather conditions the Wawona road both inside and outside of the park and the roads in the Mariposa grove of big trees have been again put in excellent condition and are now in probably better condition on the whole than before the storm of ten days ago. The Wawona route, either by way of Chowchilla mountain or Miami lodge, is well recommended. The snow is disappearing rapidly on the Big Oak Flat road, but indications are that it will not be in shape for travel much if any before June 1, the scheduled date of opening.

During the week ending May 14 a total of 1501 entered the park, of which 904 came in 274 private automobiles. The total represents a considerable increase in all classes of travel over any previous year for the same period.

As a result of the splendid results achieved last year by the nature guide service, which was then inaugurated for the first time in a national park, the work will be continued during the present season. It will again be in charge of Dr. H. C. Bryant of the University of California, assisted by Dr. Loye Miller of the southern branch of that institution, both biologists of the highest standing, and both familiar with every road and trail in Yosemite. They will have regular office hours at the office of the superintendent at Yosemite Village, where they will give information on the birds, flowers, animals and all natural phenomena of Yosemite and will conduct daily excursions to the various points who go along will be taught the mysteries of roadside life.

SAN FRANCISCO NEWS

Alleged Robber Gets Away in Night Dress
SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—Chad only in his night clothing, Joseph Costa, an ex-convict awaiting trial for burglary, made his escape from the San Francisco County Hospital early today. Costa was unguarded and presumed to be too ill to escape. He was arrested after he had been confined there for nearly eight days, on suspicion of robbing a store here. While at the county jail he became very ill and was removed to the tubercular ward at the San Francisco hospital. At 1 o'clock this morning he was apparently sleeping, but two hours later a nurse found him missing.

Impure Blood, Humors—Relief in a Good Medicine.
Spring ailments are due to impure blood, which is the cause of many other ailments, such as rheumatism, loss of appetite, that tired feeling, nervousness and all "spring" conditions.
Hood's Sarsaparilla combines the roots, barks, herbs, berries and other medicinal plants that have been found in many years of intelligent observation to be the most effective in the treatment of these ailments.
Successful physicians prescribe the same ingredients for diseases of the blood, stomach, liver and kidneys, and in cases where alternative and tonic effects are needed.

WASTE IN BUREAU SYSTEMAT U. S. CAPITAL CHARGED

Max Thelen in Address at Ad.
Club Luncheon Tells of Duplicated Effort.

That there is duplication of work in the various departments of our national government, inefficiency and lack of co-ordination between the departments to the detriment of good government, was the conclusion of Max Thelen, former president of the California State Railroad Commission, and during the late war, a "dollar a day" man in Washington, serving as a member of the United States Railroad Board.

Thelen, who was introduced by Irving Kahn, spoke before the members of the Oakland Advertising Club at the organization's weekly luncheon at the Hotel Oakland yesterday. His subject was "My Impressions of Washington."

FAULT IS NOT PLACED.
Thelen said that within the past several years our government has grown so rapidly that it has been necessary to add new departments, like building rooms on an old house to accommodate an increasing family. "It has not been the fault of any one party or any one administration, or any one department," he said. "The trouble is, our government needs reorganization. It needs to be reorganized. To illustrate what I mean, there are 47 different bureaus engaged in the business of maintaining our public health, there are 27 engineering departments, and a member of other departments under the direction of the various branches of the government. From time to time there has been need for some new branch to handle some new development. The branches have been added as a necessity regardless of where they belong, until our government is cluttered up with a lot of departments that ought to be brought together under their respective classifications. If this were done the expense of maintaining 30 departments under one branch would be cut to one eighth of its present cost."

SPECIFIC CASE STATED.
To illustrate his statements Thelen said: "There is a law against killing the Kadiak bear, and sometimes the mother of one brown and one black cub. If a hunter should kill the black cub he would have to make his peace with the department of the interior, and if he killed the brown one he would have to answer to the department of commerce. "It is the same thing if I should trap a bear, or kill one with a gun, or hunt it to death with a club. In one instance he would have to answer to the department of the interior and the other to the department of commerce."

The secretary of commerce must be a doctor, an engineer and a financier in order to properly conduct the affairs of his office. "In the past few years the department of state has grown tremendously. Lansing, just before his resignation, wanted to reorganize the department, but Wilson discouraged it. Our department of state was utterly surprised when we went to war with Germany. The department was so muddled up that we were out of touch of the foreign situation. We had the facts but the department did not know where to lay its hands on the complete data."

AD MASQUE PROFITABLE.
More than $2000 was realized in profits from the Ad Masque ball held recently in the auditorium. It was announced at the luncheon yesterday by the committee. The announcement was also made that an Ad Club bureau is to be established in the near future, with George Cummings, director of the bureau.

N. G. Wolf of the Willard Storage Battery company spoke of the development of the storage battery. He mentioned the fact that a battery was demonstrated when a quarter-inch piece of iron was burned in two by the current.

Chief in the Jolson support are Helen Eley, Mabel Wilbur, Sue Barton, Virginia Smith, Maxine Mack and Fritz von Busing. ## Wine Burglar Taken After Hard Fight

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—After a hand-to-hand encounter with a burglar at 3 o'clock this morning, during which one of more of the man's confederates watched the struggle and a nearby automobile but failed to lend him assistance, Special Officer Robert Leek arrested Albert Jones, 23 years old, and booked him at the Bush-street station.

An automobile with engine running standing at the curb in front of the residence of Herman Grauer, 1344 Jackson street, attracted the attention of the patrolman. As he approached he discovered that the basement door of Grauer's home was open. Just as he was about to enter Jones appeared, pistol in hand. Without hesitation, Leek grappled with the man, and in the struggle hit him and placing the handcuffs on his wrist. He then took him inside, where he found a crowbar and chisel used in effecting an entrance. The place is used as a wine cellar, and it was evident that a quantity of liquor stored there was the booty sought. When Leek came out with his prize the automobile was gone. Jones was charged with burglary.

Publisher Urges U. S. To Bar Undesirables

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—America should follow the example set by New Zealand and Australia in keeping its progress clean and its blood strain untarnished by prohibiting undesirable immigration, according to Colonel W. D. Boyce, publisher of Chicago and Indianapolis newspapers, who arrived here yesterday on the steamship Sonoma after a six months' trip through the Antipodes studying living and labor conditions. "According to Boyce nowhere in the world is production so high as in New Zealand and Australia. During the dry season there, he said, the sheep thrive without grass and are fed on herbs and other like food. Both New Zealand and Australia have solved the immigration problem by enacting strict laws to keep out the yellow and black races, he said. The United States was urged to do likewise by Colonel Boyce.

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain—
How to Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning gas or bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sour, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases, and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead eat right, eating only a few ounces of Blaud's Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water, three or four times a day. It sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or bloating. Blaud's Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, causes no loss of sleep and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people to enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.—Advertisement.

Miss H. A. Singer Tells How Cuticura Healed Mother

"My mother started with a breaking out of eczema on her right limb. It was red and sore and began to spread to her left limb and the upper part of her chest. Her right limb was badly swollen and itched and burned so that she could not sleep or rest. Her clothing irritated the affected parts.

"The trouble lasted about four weeks. Then we started using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and the itching and burning ceased, and after using two cakes of Soap and three boxes of Ointment she was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Hattie A. Singer, 2, Escondido, Calif., July 26, 1925.

Cocoon Oil Fine For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Multisulfated cocoon oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls of Multisulfated cocoon oil shampoo will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dirt, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Multisulfated cocoon oil shampoo at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

Be sure your druggist gives you Multisulfated.—Advertisement.

In March I was called to the bedside of my sister in Brewton, Alabama. She was given up to die and was almost dead. In a whisper, doctors said nothing but an operation would save her and she was too weak for that. Her color was yellow as a pumpkin and she was filled with gas. ## Tribune's Joynic Will Be Jazziest Spot in Oakland

All the Kiddies of the World and Mothers Are Welcome

By AUNT ELSIE.
Wait a minute, friend World. Stop fussing about the weather and the coming of autumn. You thought as you strolled down Broadway this afternoon that it's old Broadway is just the busiest, noisiest, jazziest spot in Oakland these spring days. Then believe me, World, you are wrong, for on Saturday at Lakeside Park, you'll find the jazziest spot in Oakland Town.

This is the day when The Tribune's Aunt Elsie and 50,000 clubs will be hosts to all the kiddies of the world and their mothers, too, at an all-day Joynic which starts at 10:30 in the morning with the prize games and races and lasts until late in the afternoon.

Featuring the Joynic will be two big events, the pageant "Birds and Flowers of Spring," and the "Joy and Mirth" store. The pageant will be held at 1:30 sharp near the bandstand, and will be more lovely than ever this year. It will be presented by nearly 40 of The TRIBUNE'S juveniles under the direction of Miss Emma Gage, who has been coaching them for the past few weeks.

The last event and one of the big ones of the day, will be the "Joy and Mirth" store. Something new and great for the kiddies who are members of the Aunt Elsie and 50,000 clubs will be given out. There will be a prize for every member who is in good standing. Funny prizes, booby prizes, good prizes, and very valuable prizes to those who are lucky, will be given out. Bernice Claire Jahling as "Joy," and Albert Blair as "Mirth," will assist in conducting the "Joy and Mirth" store, and will be dressed in costume appropriate for the occasion. You'll have a lot of fun at this event.

There will be music by the Lockwood School Band and Nassau musical trio, stunts by the Boy Scouts of Troop 40, and fun for everyone all day long. It is all free to all the kiddies of the world and their mothers, but of course only members of the clubs can take part in the prize games and races and "Joy and Mirth" store. Bring your lunch and be prepared to spend a happy day, you'll remember forever afterward.

Every boy and girl in the Eastbay communities is entitled to join the famous Aunt Elsie club. Just write a note to Aunt Elsie, and if you want to be a member and enjoy all the good times.

And here's another fine event added to the big Joynic.

A bicycle rally, such as has not been held in Oakland since the automobile was a novelty, is scheduled for Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. The riders will gather at City Hall square and cycle out to Lakeside Park, where The TRIBUNE's big May Time Joynic and outing will be held near the bandstand, to which every participant of the bicycle rally is invited.

There Fred St. Onge, bicycle evangelist and expert, will preach on the health, strength and companionship with nature. Then, as an expert, he will instruct in the proper methods of riding a bicycle, handling a bicycle, cycling for the bicycle and last, but not least, conducting yourself on a bicycle when in crowded traffic.

Finally St. Onge will demonstrate what he has talked about, and a bunch of stunts—for he is credited with being one of the foremost trick riders of the United States—and the wearer of scores of medals.

Besides the program of stunts and bicycle talks by St. Onge there will be souvenirs given to all participants and a new bicycle will be awarded to some boy.

Every one who takes part should bring a little parcel of lunch along and join in The TRIBUNE's big Joynic and outing.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS VOTE SUPPORT OF TOWNER MEASURE

Resolutions Committee Busy
At State Convention in Merced.

By ROSS H. HYDER.
MERCEDES, May 18.—The resolutions committee of the forty-fourth annual convention of the California State Sunday School Association has been in session three times since the convention opened yesterday, discussing resolutions which have already been passed or will be passed before the convention closes.

The first resolution supporting the Towner bill which came up for consideration in Council today was passed at a late hour last night following a motion by Rev. W. A. Phillips, of St. John's Presbyterian church, San Francisco, to amend proposed resolutions which will be passed this evening it is stated, embodying expressions of approval of certain officials of the police department who have taken action on the prohibition enforcement act submitted recently to the California legislature. Other resolutions concerning the introduction of religious education in the public schools, and courses paralleling those taught in elementary and secondary schools will be considered before the convention closes tomorrow.

DELEGATES WELCOMED.
Official recognition of the delegates by the city of Merced came last night when H. P. Spomer of Merced, welcomed the delegates on behalf of Mayor J. L. Woot, who was unable to be present.

In a speech which followed, Rev. W. A. Brown expressed the slogan of the convention as follows:
The Bible in the hands of the living teacher, every man, woman and child in the world.

This program will be carried out by the International Association, he stated.

Sessions of the convention today took the nature of denominational conferences. The nominating committee is to report late this afternoon and the resolutions committee will place this evening. President Henderson appointed Rev. George C. Lutterfield of Los Angeles chairman of the nominating committee. The committee is to report in the morning.

In addition to the main session, up of county Sunday school association officers and such superintendents of Sunday schools as are in attendance.

In two addresses before the administrative division of the convention, yesterday, the problem of religious education in elementary and secondary schools was considered. Dr. Tully C. Kelsey, president of the National Association of Sunday School Teachers, spoke, stating that the need for religious training is paramount for the development of character in our democracy at the present time. No effort will be made to introduce the Bible into the public schools he stated.

We have no desire to have the Bible introduced by our public school teachers," he said.

Dr. A. W. Phillips outlined the three necessities for religious education in an address immediately following that of Dr. Kelsey. Religion at consciousness of the necessity of such education, a trained leadership to carry out its principles, and an international committee representative of all religious educational organizations are the three requisites of the program, according to Dr. Phillips. He advocated also that establishment of three schools in each community, with courses for junior, intermediate and senior students in religious education, paralleling courses in public schools.

Preliminary conferences for the purpose of organizing the convention for business were held during the early part of the afternoon. Delegates were registered, and the entire convention was divided into four divisions for conference purposes. J. W. Henderson, of Oakland, president of the association, is presiding.

Evans of the Pacific School of Religion, Berkeley, delivered the main address of the meeting on "The Lessons We Teach." The Adult Division is in session at Bethel Methodist church with Rev. J. S. Woodruff, of Selma, adult superintendent of the association, presiding.

The Merced city hall has been turned over to the association and is being used as a meeting place for the administrative division. The J. E. Squires, of San Francisco, Pacific Coast representative of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, is presiding.

PRESBYTERIANS' GENERAL CAUCUS OPENS THURSDAY

1000 Overtures From Synods
On 25 Different Subjects
Will Be Presented.

WINONA Lake, Wis., May 18.—A pre-assembly conference will be held here tomorrow by many of the Presbyterians from all over the country who will take part in the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church which opens its general session Thursday.

The Presbyterian New Era movement has prepared a special program for today which includes joint conferences with other boards and agencies. One of the commissioners elected this year is William Jennings Bryan, who was appointed from the Florida presbytery. Bryan has been mentioned as a possible candidate for moderator but Presbyterians who know him best say that he will not permit himself to be elected to this office and to prevent such election by the General Assembly until after the opening, when the moderator has been elected.

1000 OVERTURES.
Nearly 1000 overtures from presbyteries and synods on 25 different subjects will be presented before the assembly. This is the largest number of overtures ever accepted. The last high number was 600.

The overtures embrace resolutions asking for changes in form of Presbyterian government, limitation of office of Stated Clerk of General Assembly, consolidation of various boards, a revision and reallocation of the Presbyterian annual budget.

There are also overtures relative to the question of the Organic Union of Evangelical Churches. One overture of this kind asks that there be no such union, while another advocates that even though the Presbyterians have decided against organic union that still negotiations be continued and plans devised looking toward such a union.

WOMEN AS ELDERS.
Another important question to be considered will be relative to the eligibility of women to the eldership and deaconship of Presbyterian churches. This also was sent down by the last assembly to the 302 presbyteries and is now being voted on.

In addition to the main session, there will be an important matter will come up in connection with the election of a successor to the stated clerk's office to fill the vacancy left by the death of the late Dr. William Henry Roberts. Two overtures refer to this office, one asking for its reorganization and limitation of the stated clerk's term of 5 years and another referring to the election of a successor to Dr. Roberts.

This last advocates that the position be left vacant this year, but that in election be held with nominations from the floor for all proposed for this office. These names would then be placed in the hands of a committee which would go over them to select a man they believe most suitable for the position and a report of their findings would then be given at the next General Assembly. This report would then be approved or disapproved by the 134th General Assembly.

GEORGE D. GRAY ESTATE LEFT TO THREE CHILDREN

Value of Pioneer's Property
Not Stated in Will Filed
For Probate.

The will of George D. Gray, well-known San Francisco and Piedmont lumber man and commission merchant and pioneer resident of the Eastbay section, was filed with County Clerk George W. Gross for probate today. The hearing on the petition for letters testamentary will be held by Superior Judge E. C. Robinson May 31. Gray died May 9 last, the age of 78.

Gray was reputed wealthy, but the petition for letters filed by two children merely states the estate is of more than $10,000 value. Relatives of the deceased are out of town and his attorney and representatives of his business firm in San Francisco declare they can give no information as to the value of the estate.

The will leaves an automobile and other personal property to a son, Prentiss N. Gray, and household furniture and pictures of equal value to that left to the son to two daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Gray Potter and Mrs. Mabel Gray Potter. The balance of the estate is divided equally between the three children.

The two daughters married men who are father and son, Miss Mabel Gray wedding Senator Thomas M. Potter and Miss Elizabeth Gray becoming the wife of Senator Potter's son, Frederick W. Potter. The home of both families is at 207 Pacific avenue, Piedmont, where Gray also lived for some time prior to his death.

Gray was one of the early settlers of Oakland and a prominent figure in California affairs from the days of the gold rush and the Vigilantes. Prentiss Gray is a graduate of the University of California and was an aide to Herbert Hoover in the administration of Belgian relief. Mrs. Mabel Potter is one of the trustees of Mills college. The sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Potter, is librarian at that college. Prentiss Gray was on his way home from the East for a visit to his father when the latter's death occurred.

Woman Who Defied Muezzins Of Egypt Arrives in S. F.

MRS. SYDNEY STARR, who penetrated the sacred portal of the mosque of Nebi Daniel in Alexandria, narrowly escaping with her life, arrived in San Francisco aboard the Golden State yesterday.

American Accepts Dare and Penetrates Sacred Mosque of Nebi Daniel at Alexandria

MANY CITIZENS ARE NOW READY FOR CITY JOBS

Newly Elected Officials Prefer Fitness To Men Who "Arranged Affairs."

"I have arranged my personal affairs and am now in a position to accept appointments."

This dignified phrase has now become a stock quotation at the city hall and is heard at least five times a day in the mayor's office or in the vicinity of the commissioners-elect, according to Frank Colburn and Harold Weber, secretary to Mayor Davies.

In spite of the published rule that the office of newly elected candidates seeking office have been besieging the sanctuaries of the victors at the polls, causing embarrassment all around.

"We decided," says Colburn, "to try to select the men best fitted for the office and we announced that applicants who sought office would hardly be preferred, but it has not discouraged the applicants."

Colburn says that the men for the offices have not been announced and in most cases have not been chosen. A study of the qualifications of various persons is being made, he says, so that when the slate is announced it will be unchangeable.

Meaning, it is admitted at the mayor's office, that the city provided they can secure an appointment. The situation, it is admitted, is much like the scene in Washington the day after President Harding went into office.

It is reiterated by all the successful candidates that applicants who seek office will not be favored.

Court Asked To Fix Value of School Site

Condemnation proceedings against nine acres of land valued by the owner at $15,000 and by the school board at $45,000, were begun today by Deputy District Attorney Earl Warren to secure a site for a $500,000 junior high school bounded by Park Boulevard, Hopkins, Anna and Cottage streets.

M. P. Smith, who purchased the property from the Home Club, has refused to let it to the school board for public use at an appraised value of $45,000, and for that reason the condemnation proceedings have been begun.

The land in question is the Mary Smith trust property, and formerly was a portion of the site of the residence of P. M. Smith, capitalist.

KEEP MOLE FOR RIVER STEAMERS, ADVISES MAYOR

Davie Defends Action Taken Yesterday in Ferry Landing Question.

Predicting that he will live to see the Sacramento and San Joaquin river steamers called at the end of Oakland mole on their way to and from San Francisco, Mayor Davies today commented on his action yesterday toward transferring the city's waterfront operations from Seventh street to a new location at the end of Fourteenth street.

"An automobile ferry at the foot of Oakland mole is less desirable than to keep that land for bay and river steamers," says the mayor. "The real terminal for the Six Minute Ferry is at the end of Fourteenth street where it is a direct route to the Union Construction plant."

"Fourteenth street is a natural highway. The road can serve both the ferry and the shipyard, as well as other industries. I expect to see a street car line serving the employees of the shipyard and the waterfront. Access to West Fourteenth street is easy. There is no long system of electric lines to cross."

"The land west of Alameda property on the Seventh street extension to Oakland mole can be utilized for a steamer ship at least as well as comparatively. It can be a place where rail and water will meet. River passengers can take trains at Oakland mole for the interior. It is an ideal terminal. I expect to see the day."

That was the statement of Superior Judge Kingsley when he awarded Mrs. Annie Nickerson, daughter of a Salvation Army Captain, a divorce from Robert Nickerson of 1123 Leggett street, Alameda.

Judge Kingsley pointed out that Nickerson had gone to live again with his wife after making charges against her, and that he had condoned her alleged offenses.

ACTION HELD UP ON RE-ZONING TELEGRAPH AVE.

Residents Divided Over Plan To Allow "Light Businesses" in Street.

BERKELEY, May 18.—Whether or not Telegraph avenue will be converted into a retail business street and the erection of a garage permitted as the first step in that direction, will be decided by the council at its meeting next Tuesday.

Opponents to changing the present residential zoning of the thoroughfare were voiced at yesterday's council meeting by property owners on Chilton way, who declared that their holdings would be increased in value by the re-zoning plan.

A recommendation from the city planning commission that the district be changed from Class 1 to Class 2, the latter allowing light businesses, was objected to by members of the council, who declared that Telegraph avenue should be thrown wide open for business purposes, and that new enterprises be encouraged rather than discouraged.

Councilman George Schmidt moved that the district be placed in Zone 5, allowing all kinds of businesses, but on the suggestion of Mayor Bartlett that further time be given to a study of the situation, action was postponed for a week, when a report of the city planning commission will be made covering recommendations for the whole of the street in question.

The proposed erection of a garage on property owned by N. E. Neary at Telegraph avenue and Blake street, was the cause of particular objections voiced by Mrs. O. J. Kern, wife of Professor Kern of the University of California; Mrs. John Hunt, Miss Sike, and others. Chilton way property owners, however, declared that as long as there was an alley between Telegraph avenue and Chilton way that the garage would not be objectionable. Mr. J. Mortimer, realty dealer and Professor Albin Puzos, a member of the university faculty, argued for the creation of the garage.

That a garage would decrease property values and would bring an influx of Japanese into the neighborhood, was also argued by protest. Councilman Charles D. Hayward urged that Telegraph avenue for its entire length be made a business district, while Councilman Schmidt rallied members of the council for their opposition to having a building erected on the entire Telegraph avenue situation at next Tuesday's council meeting, and the matter was postponed until that time.

Mormons Bar Leader For Plural Ceremony

SALT LAKE CITY, May 18.—State President Nephil L. Morris of the Mormon church here has confirmed a report that a recent excommunication of a church member, a patriarch of the Mormon church, was the disciplinary action of the church authorities to punish an alleged plural marriage. The specific act for which the church discipline was imposed was the performing of the alleged marriage of John Burt with a girl, when Burt already had at least one wife. One of the church officials said today: "The name of the girl was withheld from church officials."

Barlow, a white-haired pioneer who has passed threescore and ten, has served the church for some years as a patriarch, one of the highest ecclesiastical offices in the church. He served the church as a missionary in foreign fields. Burt, church authorities say, has since disappeared and Barlow, despite his past faithfulness to the church, was cast out after a trial by church officials.

Man Who Tried To Kill Wife Arraigned

Alfred S. Wilson, 32 years old, who on Sunday night shot and seriously wounded his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Wilson, was arraigned this morning on a charge of assault to commit murder before Judge Edward J. Tyrrell. The judge set the preliminary examination on June 6 when it is expected that Mrs. Wilson will be able to testify against her husband.

At the request of Wilson's attorney the judge agreed to allow the prisoner to be released on bail. Judge Tyrrell at first was going to set the bail at $20,000, but after considering the case he fixed the bail at $10,000, either cash or bond. He said that in a case like Mrs. Wilson's there was a chance that the woman might die the bail of $20,000 would be too low.

"Beware Fate of Madero" Is Word Sent Obregon

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS

LEADERS WENT TO TRIBUNE

MEXICO CITY, May 18.—(De-

ware of the fate of Francisco Madero, who failed to heed solicitations to change his policy, and fell," was the warning sent to President Obregon last night by Liberal-Constitutionalist members of the Chamber of Deputies and the Senate. The warning was contained in a memorial drafted at a caucus of the Liberal-Constitutionalists, and it made pointed charges that P. Elias Calles, Secretary of the Interior, and Adolfo de la Huerta, former president and now Secretary of the Treasury, had attempted to cause disaffection against the Obregon administration.

The document was signed by 123 deputies and several senators. Referring to the necessity of President Obregon's resignation, the memorial said: "In connection with the invasion of the Chamber of Deputies by radicals last week, the press has published your statements which are almost identical with those made officially by the Confederation of Syndicated Workers. You have stated the attack was an aggregation of forces, but this is a statement which is at absolute variance with all the concepts of society."

Secretaries Calles and De la Huerta were charged with attempting to use their office to perpetrate radicalism. There was no request made, however, for the resignations of the two members of the cabinet.

Radical sympathizers attempted to force their way into the Chamber of Deputies last night to attack members of the Liberal-Constitutional party, who were holding a caucus there. When engaged in the disorder were dispersed by the fire department.

The streets near the Congressional building were filled with angry curious people who were awaiting developments. One Socialist deputy was arrested.

Some members of the Liberal-Constitutionalist party were openly carrying arms, as they left the building, but there were no attacks made upon them. An explanation was made later in the evening that there had been no attempt to prohibit Socialist deputies from entering the chamber, but that the doors had been closed to forestall a possible demonstration by spectators.

JANITOR, BARBER RATING FIGURES IN THIS DIVORCE

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—The question of the social rating of various occupations entered the divorce court here today when Janet Tanaka, Japanese, asked for a divorce from her husband, Tanaka.

Tanaka testified that his wife's stepmother repeatedly told him that he was of too low a social level to be married to her stepdaughter. Tanaka is a janitor.

"What does your wife's husband do?" asked Judge Moran. "He is a barber."

Tanaka got his divorce.

U. S. INDULGENCE HELPS BLIND ENJOY LIBRARIES

Through the courtesy of the government, bulky books such as six footed by the blind, some of them eighteen inches to two feet square, are allowed to pass through the mails, untaxed and unchallenged according to W. A. Caldwell, principal of the California School for the Deaf and Blind in Berkeley. Thousands of books each year are received at the school, and all are read eagerly by the blind students there, Caldwell said.

When taken into consideration, Caldwell said, that all of the books for the blind printed in the raised Braille type come in three or four sections, it is almost impossible for a sightless person, even in moderate circumstances, to own a large number of these books. To provide for such contingencies, the committee for Lighthouse for the Blind, have established a circulating library of Braille books on all subjects, which travel over the United States to all blind schools. "Little Women" printed in Braille, costs $27 and is published in three volumes, Caldwell said. "The Mill on the Floss" can only be obtained in six volumes.

"The average blind person reads to himself as fast as the clergyman reads the sermon at a congregation, and the principal declared. "The blind book lovers love to read interesting books just as much as ardent readers with good sight. And contributions to the fund being raised by the committee for Lighthouses for the Blind, will be greatly appreciated."

The first Lighthouse was founded in 1907 by Miss Winifred Hotell of New York and since that time seven other such institutions have been established. The object of the Lighthouse is to provide relief, recreation, education and employment for the blind. President Harding is honorary chairman of the campaign, while Franklin K. Roosevelt is chairman. Lewis L. Clark is treasurer.

C. of C. Members To Attend Conference

A call was sent out today by the Oakland Chamber of Commerce over the signature of President J. H. King for strong representation at the industrial-agricultural conference to be held in Sacramento Saturday, under the joint auspices of the California Development board and the California Industrial association.

It is the plan of the Chamber of Commerce to send a delegation of at least 50 to this meeting, which is regarded by President King as of the utmost importance to the State at large and the mainland section of San Francisco Bay in particular.

King will be among the principal speakers, taking for his subject the relation of industrial to the back country. Already a number of the leading business and professional men of the Oakland district have announced that they will attend the conference.

Impetus to the movement have the Oakland section largely represented has been given by the statements of Dr. H. M. WAR WOULD WIPE JAPAN OUT, SAYS Y.M.C.A. SPEAKER

Problems Advanced Furnish No Cause For Clash With U. S., He Asserts.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS

LEADERS WENT TO TRIBUNE

CHICAGO, May 18.—A fight to a finish between the United States and Japan would result in Japan being "wiped out the map," George Gleason, international Y. M. C. A. secretary, who has returned from a trip through the Orient, declared today in addressing the international disarmament congress here. Gleason said, however, that only those living in the kindergarten of international affairs could picture the possibility of war between this country and Japan, and that combining all the friction growing out of the Yip Korea, China and California questions would not furnish the remotest cause for war.

"Even if there were a cause," he continued, "a real fight to a finish between the two nations would put Japan off the map. The island empire might capture the Philippines, Hawaii, or even a part of our west coast, but when the mighty resources and technical skill of this vast continent were once mobilized, Japan, unable to draw on bankrupt Europe, would be literally starved to her knees."

"The Japanese themselves know it and none better than the army men. Japan's Monroe Doctrine for Asia, though often criticized, should meet with American approval. When the smoke of war has cleared away, we can see that Japan's policy for Asia is the same as our policy for the open door of equal opportunity."

"Furthermore, Japan is ready to follow America's leadership if proof is given that it is unselfish and just. Had the American government continued its announced policy of world service, Japan would be following us still."

Our own selfishness has been largely to blame and the great majority of the people in the United States are, in a degree, responsible for the conditions with which we must now contend, relative to the Japanese question, Earl S. Parker, of Los Angeles, said.

"Instead of humble spirit and a realization of the responsibilities which are inseparable from great opportunities, we have been proud and inclined to regard as our inferiors all those of a different race or religion," Parker said.

"The presence of the comparative small number of Japanese who are now in California, gave no just cause for complaint, but it has been made the basis of a race prejudice appeal."

Ask The Tribune If You Desire Prompt Information

Do you want to know where to have your baby weighed and measured? One woman did, and she proceeded to ask the TRIBUNE. Also, she inquired if there was to be a baby show in Oakland in the near future.

To this latter question the TRIBUNE Information Bureau replied that there is no local Baby Show to be staged here in the immediate future.

As to the weighing and measuring of babies, here is the answer: "Baby Hospital and Baby Clinic, Piedmont 223, Fifty-third and Grove streets. Take a Grove car and get off at Fifty-third street. Babies are weighed and measured every Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and all mothers are urged to bring their babies in when they wish advice, whether babies are sick or well. Miss Wright is in charge."

Hayward Parade in Oakland Is Farm Show Advertisement

Hayward and Oakland joined hands yesterday to celebrate "Hayward day," to acquaint Oakland merchants with Hayward products and to advertise the coming Farm Products Show which will be held there August 11 to 14.

Scores of automobiles, carrying hundreds of Hayward citizens and school children, including the Hayward grammar school band, drove in parade formation from Hayward to Oakland, and to the T. & D. theater where, in the afternoon and evening, films of the Hayward May day fete were shown and folk dances by school children presented.

The day's festivities began in Hayward yesterday noon, when the automobiles, decorated with pennants, paraded through the city in preparation for the journey to Oakland. At noon the schools were closed and the school children marched in a body to the city hall, where they joined the procession. Leaving Hayward about 1 o'clock, the automobile parade wended its way over the roads to Oakland, arriving here about 1:30. The parade was met by a delegation of Oakland merchants and made a tour of the streets of the downtown business district.

After the parade the visitors proceeded to the theater where the May day pictures were shown, folk dances presented by the school children and the grammar school band rendered several selections. The performance was duplicated last night.

The object of Hayward day was to acquaint Oakland with Hayward's growth, and each visiting merchant strove to gain prominence by a unique display of his wares. They also advertised the Farm Products Show.

He has also filed an attachment against the property of the league here.

Goodenow says he was promised a salary of $125 a week and worked for five weeks, besides expending $125 of his own. The following are made defendants in the action: Attorney C. E. The Officers of the organization were: C. W. Harsough of San Diego, president; A. L. Hawkins of Pasadena, first vice-president; W. A. Wishart of Oakland, second vice-president; E. A. Henderson of Los Angeles, secretary and treasurer.

The delegates to the convention were the guests of the camp here yesterday, when the entire body, accompanied by guides and officials of the camp, were shown the natural beauties of Yosemite Valley.

Declares Husband Threatened Beauty

Ruth Bartness took the witness stand in her divorce action before Superior Judge Koford today and testified that her husband, Kenneth Bartness had threatened to ruin her beauty by throwing acid in her face and that he threatened to kill her. Mrs. Bartness said that three months after they were married Bartness threatened to kill her, that on December 19, 1920, he took a diamond ring that he had given her from her finger and refused to return it, and said further that on Christmas day in 1919 he gave her Liberty bonds in front of other members of the family and then took them from her in the privacy of their bedroom.

The couple were married July 3, 1919, and separated December 1, 1920. She asks $50 a month alimony.

SALES TAX BILL IS ARGUED BY PHARMACISTS

More Than Hundred Association Members Attend Convention in Yosemite.

CAMP CURRY, May 18.—Liberal discussion of the general sales tax bill, proposed to Congress and under consideration at Washington, disclosed at the fifteenth annual convention of the California Pharmaceutical Association, in session here today, that the druggists and pharmacists of California favor the adoption of such a law. The sales tax bill provides for a tax of two-tenths of 1 per cent of the annual business done by all kinds of enterprises and would eliminate the present distasteful stamp tax which chiefly affects druggists and pharmacists.

More than 300 members of the association were present when the convention convened yesterday. While members of State Boards of Pharmacy of seven Western states are also in conference under the auspices of the National Association of Boards of Pharmacy, pending legislation which chiefly affects druggists of the Western states will form the main topic of discussion at meetings of both organizations.

SALES TAX ARGUED. After T. W. Jones of Los Angeles had opened the argument in favor of the proposed sales tax, and Chairman A. L. Hawkins of Pasadena had called for an open discussion, T. E. Collier of Salt Lake City sounded the only dissenting vote opposing the bill, when he termed it "unfair" and "unjust," because the business man is taxed and has no means of levying a share of such burden upon his customer.

The delegates to the convention were the guests of the camp here yesterday, when the entire body, accompanied by guides and officials of the camp, were shown the natural beauties of Yosemite Valley.

FLYNN WILL SPEAK

"THE BRIDE OF MISSION SAN JOSE" By JOHN AUGUSTINE CULL. A SERIAL STORY OF ALAMEDA COUNTY EXCLUSIVELY IN THE SUNDAY Tribune

JOINT TRIAL BILL TO SAVE COUNTY MANY THOUSANDS

Treasury To Profit By Measure Just Signed By Governor.

More than $100,000 will be saved annually to the state of California and $10,000 to $20,000 will be saved to Alameda county alone, through the joint trial bill which has just been signed by Governor W. D. Stephens, according to District Attorney Ezra Decoto, originator of the measure. Decoto received word from Sacramento today of the signing of the bill. The bill goes into effect July 28.

By trying two defendants at a time in a murder case, the county would save $135 a day or $1250 for a ten-day trial, while in the ordinary robbery or burglary case the saving would be $85, Decoto says.

At the present time defendants can demand individual trials, while under the law just signed by the Governor, the trial judge may order accused persons to be tried in groups or individually, at his discretion.

PRISONER SAVING.
That nearly $5000 could have been saved to the county in the "Thirty Strong" gangster trials alone if it had been possible to try them all at the same time, is proved by the present law, was the opinion of the District Attorney.

Decoto, who, as chairman of the District Attorneys' Association of California, proposed the measure, declares that the Alameda county delegation is responsible for the passage of the law which will effect such an immense saving in the criminal trials.

"The joint trial system is now in effect in federal courts and it does not in any way jeopardize the rights of defendants," says Decoto. A jury trying two, three or five persons for the same crime at one time may find some of them guilty, others innocent and disprove as to the other defendants.

ESTIMATES COSTS.
"Senator Edward M. Otis introduced the bill, but it was due to Assemblyman O. O. Parkinson of Stockton that the measure went through without friction," says Decoto. Otis and myself, Parkinson agreed to withdraw a similar bill he had prepared and get behind the Alameda county measure.

In estimating the cost of a murder trial, the District Attorney figured in the following items: judge at $15 a day, reporter $10 a day, jury $40 a day, transcript evidence at $50 a day, deputy district attorney at $7 and $10 a day for clerk and bailiff.

Church Row Given Airing in Court.
Members of the Beth Eden Baptist, colored, church were present in Police Judge Edward J. Tyrrell's court this morning. Some testified in behalf of the defendant, Nelson Henderson, charged with battery, and others in behalf of Elvina Bland, the complaining witness.

On March 30, according to some of the witnesses, Henderson, a colored business meeting sixteen members of the congregation left the church at the request of Rev. S. W. Hawkins, the pastor. As the members were leaving the church some one in the group turned off the lights. Henderson walked out into the vestibule and asked who did it.

According to the story he told the judge, two women grabbed hold of him by the neck and punched him several times. During the fight the light was turned on and off three times.

Elvina Bland, the complaining witness, testified that Henderson backed her into a corner of the vestibule and struck her in the face several times. She said:

"He just jumped off his feet and punched me in the nose and the ear." Several members of the board of trustees of the church testified that Henderson did not start the trouble with the women.

A decision in the case will be given by Judge Tyrrell on Saturday morning.

Home Owners Win in Dispute on Paving.
Protest of property owners against the improvement of Georgia street by overhauling the city council when Commissioner Edwards represented that all the actual residents who have homes on the street want the paving, while those who merely own lots are against the assessment. The protests totaled 46 per cent of the whole.

The council formally requested all the departments to tender their budget estimates by June 15. The actual work on the budget will then begin in earnest.

The city attorney was authorized to publish the delinquent tax list for the year.

The request of the park board for a drinking fountain at Joaquin Miller park was referred to the commissioner of finance.

Applications for poolroom permits were denied to Earl Robinson of 1612 Seventh street and D. C. Morris at 1731 Seventh street, by request of the chief of police.

Physicians Row On Efficacy of "Shot in Arm"

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Dr. Walter Hadwen, president of the British Union for the Abolition of Vivisection, precipitated a clash with Dr. George W. McCoy, director of the Federal Hygienic Laboratory, here last night when he asserted before a meeting under auspices of the National Society for Humane Regulation of Vivisection, that epidemic diseases were often the result of preventive inoculation. Dr. McCoy characterized the statement in challenging it from the floor as a "damnable lie," and Mr. Hadwen demanded that Dr. McCoy "prove the lie."

Dr. Hadwen asserted that the germ theory of disease would be completely upset within another decade, the medical profession recognizing the disease germs were the result rather than the cause of disease. He said inoculation for disease prevention was the "most ridiculous assumption ever introduced into a sane world."

TALES IN COURT WIDELY DIFFER

Contradictions and criminalities in the testimony of the witnesses in the case of Mike Sadler, Auditorium park gardener, charged with battery upon Mrs. Lucille Barbour, 1016 Jackson street, came with such regularity before Police Judge Edgar today that the court found it necessary to take the matter under consideration and will give judgment June 1.

According to the testimony of Mrs. Barbour and those arrayed on her side and against the gardener, she and her four small children were walking near the Auditorium March 22. Two of the children strayed onto the lawn and were contending for athletic supremacy when she was approached by Sadler and ordered, with an oath, to keep her children off the lawn. She said the gardener then seized her by the throat, choked her, tore her dress and broke a chain of beads she was wearing about her neck.

So, had was the grip of Sadler upon her throat, she told the court that finger-marks were left on her flesh for many days. Her children corroborated her testimony in hearing before Police Judge Edgar. Stevens, 1108 Filbert street, partially agreed with the complaining witness. He said he saw a black and a half away when he saw the gardener put his hands on the woman's throat. He said, however, Mrs. Barbour insisted that Sadler seized her and shook her so vigorously that her clothing was torn and her neck marked.

On his own behalf, Sadler testified, and was corroborated by several witnesses, that he had seen the children "skating" on the lawn and asked Mrs. Barbour to have them remain on the lawn. He said that the woman charged at him and that he retreated. Eventually he again approached Mrs. Barbour and said to her, "Get on the sidewalk and be good." As he uttered the command, he said, the woman's hand came up and he said he did not at any time attempt to strike or take hold of her.

Stage Line Hearing Is Again Postponed.

The fourth continuance was made today, District Attorney E. T. Tamm receiving word from the Railroad Commission that another postponement has been necessary. The new date set for hearing the application has not been fixed, the hearing had been scheduled for Antioch Thursday. When the application is heard opposition to it is to be voiced by the county through the district attorney.

Warrants Issued For Defaulting Jurymen.
BERKELEY, May 18.—Citations were today issued by Judge Robert Edgar for Carl Emil Hansen, 2615 Virginia street, graduate of the university with the last class, and M. Kaplan, restaurant keeper of Shattuck avenue, summoning them to court to show cause why they should not be arrested for contempt of court in refusing to obey jury summons.

Restaurateur Jails Forgetful Ex-Actor.
BERKELEY, May 18.—William F. Dietrich, known to the acrobatic world as "Prince Carl," at one time one of the most daring performers in the circus world, was sentenced to police station at an early hour this morning by Special Officer McLeod on the complaint of Andrew Somios, proprietor of a restaurant on Shattuck avenue. A mere trifle of fifteen cents was the cause, says Dietrich.

Andrew Somios, waiter at the restaurant, declared that the "Prince" ate fifteen cents worth of food and then departed.

"Seems to me I left the money on the counter, but maybe I didn't," said the prince. "It's such a trifle, anyhow, not much to worry about."

This is the second time "Prince Carl" has been at police station within a few months. Not long ago he wandered into Harmon Gymnasium on the university campus, took a shower with all of his clothes on.

Flier at Beauty Machine Game Leads to Prison

BERKELEY, May 18.—Earl Robinson, automobile salesman, 42 years old, is under arrest in Berkeley today facing a charge of misdemeanor embezzlement, because he deviated from his regular line of business and sought to sell beauty machines.

Miss Edna D. Corvett, 2330 Fulton street, charges, Robinson with obtaining $21 from her by means of a machine and promising to deliver a violet ray electric machine. When after several weeks, she failed to get the machine and demanded her money back, Robinson refused to make the refund, she says.

Arrested at his home at 2305 Fulton street yesterday by Patrolman Frank Waterbury, Robinson declared that he had been offered a machine and that he had negotiated the sale merely as a favor to Miss Corvett and in order to save her from paying the regular price.

Robinson, who is employed by a San Francisco automobile firm, came to Berkeley recently from Los Angeles. He entered a plea of not guilty before Judge Robert Edgar this morning and his case was set for trial for May 23. He deposited $200 in cash bonds and was released.

MARRIED WOMEN SHOULD WORK, IS EDUCATOR'S VIEW

LOS ANGELES, May 18.—Women should work after marriage just the same as before, according to Dr. Martin J. Sternman, associate professor of education of the University of Southern California, in a lecture to college students.

Women for the greater part are parasites, he said. "Apartment house life and the attitude of men that their wives should remain at home have been largely responsible for this condition."

"It is the duty of every college-trained woman to give to society the benefits of that training."

With modern appliances a woman can do all of her household work in an hour. Some of the best housekeepers I have ever known have been women who worked outside of their own homes."

JAPANESE TERMS FOR RETURN OF SHANTUNG MADE

Evacuation of Siberia Also Reported Agreed Upon At Conference.

By DUKE N. PARRY, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

TOKYO, May 18.—Although official comment is lacking, the press states today that it is reliably informed that the general colonial conference meeting in secret at its second day's session adopted the general lines along which Japan is willing to return Shantung to China.

Evacuation of Siberia is also understood to have been partially agreed upon although certain concessions will be demanded in connection with the withdrawal, it is stated. Foreign and war officers are said to be in disagreement upon this question.

Regarding the decision to propose to China the return of Shantung the Asahi Shimbun says:

"It is learned semi-officially that there are three parts to the proposal. Japan will agree to China for the withdrawal of Japanese troops along the Shantung railway. They are: Abandonment of rights to coal mines and to forests, a serious concession to Tsingtau, recognition of Chinese rights to an open treaty port."

BREAK INTIMATED.
The press generally declares that Torikichi Ohtani, minister to China, cleared straight from the shoulion in the conference, producing a serious impasse in Japan's relations with China unless immediate action is taken on the Shantung question.

Ohtani, it is understood, has been refused permission to talk to newspaper men pending the final decisions of the conference.

The colonial conference representatives are to dine with the emperor today.

BY RUSSELL BROWNING.
United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—The ransom demanded of China by Japan for the return of Shantung is submission to the twenty-one demands presented in 1915, according to Ma Sien, envoy of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, president of the rebel republic of South China, in an interview with the United Press today.

PLEDGES REFUSAL.
"No government in China would entertain such an offer for one minute," declared Ma Sien. "This is my refusal to treat with anyone who would demand such a thing."

He declared that should Sun Yat Sen be deprived of a part of her body at the peace conference, when she was surrounded by friends, how could we expect to appear before the Japanese in direct negotiations?"

Contrary to a prevalent notion, the government of Southern China is distinctly anti-Japanese, said Ma Sien. He said that Sun Yat Sen is opposed to establishing the unity of China, Japan's continuance in Shantung and Manchuria would immediately be challenged.

DOPE ADDICT OF 64 SEES CURE BY JAIL TERM

BERKELEY, May 18.—Weak and almost unable to stand, Charles C. Smith, 64 years old of 428 Sixth street, Oakland, walked to police station last night and asked that he be arrested as a vagrant in order that he might be sentenced to the county jail to take the drug cure.

He has been addicted to the use of morphine. "It's killing me and I want to stop," he said. "I have tried to stop but I can't." Smith was locked in a cell.

When officers went to him at 6 o'clock this morning to take him out of the cell, he was unconscious and he was rushed to the emergency hospital. Smith will be held at the hospital until strong enough to appear before Judge Robert Edgar.

NEW SCHOOL WORK TOTALLY TIED UP BY LABOR STRIKE

Delay Threatens Program of Department; Conference Will Be Held.

BERKELEY, May 18.—A school architect, acting for Superintendent A. Appleton, acting for Superintendent A. Appleton, reported to the board of education yesterday that work on the new high school building and on the Oakland intermediate and Lincoln grammar schools was practically tied up by strikes and walk-outs. A union of the buildings for the opening of the new school term had been planned for by the school officials. Unless these buildings are completed within a few weeks, it is feared, the opening of the new school term will be delayed.

It would be better to delay the opening of school for a week or two than to have the buildings in a state of disrepair when the school term opens. The structure of the labor problem can be adjusted shortly, but the class work in the old buildings and move from the new school later on.

CONFERENCE ANNOUNCED.
President Roy T. Woodley appointed a committee of board members to confer with labor leaders in San Francisco today. An explanation cannot be made for public buildings. Appleton declared that contractors were willing to pay the old wage scale but were not allowed.

The expenditure of $174 for grading and sidewalks at the site of the new Oakland school was approved on condition that residents of the neighborhood also install sidewalks near the school property.

NEW SCHOOL PLMP.
The sum of $2.5 was allowed for a building to house the pump at the Oakland school. But for the power plant at the high school. Note: A letter by the board and referred to the secretary for tabulation as work also bids for school supplies for the coming year.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS PLANNING OUTINGS.
Members of two Berkeley Sunday schools of Oakland and their friends will invade Redwood Canyon Saturday when the annual picnic and open air reunion of the First Presbyterian church and the Centennial Presbyterian church are held.

The Sunday school of the First church has secured Madrone Park for its outing. Committees of this organization have provided for free coffee for all, but the members will carry their own lunch.

There will be a program of games and sports including a volleyball game between the teachers and the school children, and a baseball game between the two churches. Prizes will be provided for all games and athletic contests.

At Pinelhurst Park, near Madrone, the Sunday school of the Centennial Presbyterian church will have a picnic. The arrangements for this picnic are being perfected by Mrs. Edward Ray at the home of the general committee.

There will be all kinds of games and sports including races for boys and girls, jumping and other contests of skill, strength and endurance.

The train carrying the First church Sunday school will leave the Fortieth street and Shafter avenue depot of the San Francisco and Sacramento railroad at 10:10 o'clock, and the other picnicers will leave the same depot on a train departing at 11:30.

The return will be made on trains leaving the depot at 4:10 o'clock in the afternoon. For those who are not able to be in time for the morning train for the picnic grounds, accommodations will be provided on the train leaving at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

Friends of both schools are invited to attend the picnics.

Girl Sought as Heir of Father She Never Knew.
SONOMA, May 18.—Search is being made for the daughter of Jake Blayner, pioneer Sonoma Valley resident, who died in 1906. The daughter, it is said, was never known to her father although he had no children and his wife parted with the daughter when she was an infant. Mayer and his wife parted with the daughter when she was an infant. She never returned, nor did the girl ever claim him as father.

However, until the day of his death he cherished the hope that some day she would return and make herself known. When he died, it was found that she was the sole beneficiary to property owned by the deceased man. A ranch at Vineburg was sold last week bringing over $2000 to the estate.

CORVALLIS, Ore., May 18.—Ninety-four students of Oregon Agricultural College were yesterday decorated with state medals in recognition of war service.

18th Amendment Frog Bats Gold Eye at Nimrod

TUOLUMNE, May 18.—A frog with a gold film over its eyes, a frog of unusual dimensions, a frog which puzzles local naturalists, was shot out of a tree the other day by Deputy Arano, who thinks the strange animal may lead to the discovery of a gold mine.

Arano went gunning over on Turkey creek. He spotted a strange-looking object on the lower limb of a tree. At first he thought it was a bird of some kind. But he had never heard of a bird with four legs. He drew nearer and shot it off its perch.

Nothing like it has ever been seen here and no one is sure it is a relic of the pleistocene age. It is, instead of being round and smooth, is somewhat flat, rough and encrusted with what appears to be flour gold, hindering rather than aiding its vision. How it reached the limb of the tree is another puzzle.

Arano says the frog is yellow about the creature's eyes, proves to be gold he will locate a claim under that tree.

Conditions Outgrow Relief Agencies; First Breach in Deadlock Appears.
BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

CARDIFF, Wales, May 18.—Tragic suffering that has outgrown the remedies of relief agencies, grips the whole Welsh coal field today as a result of the national mine strike which is now in its forty-eighth day. Thousands of school children are being fed daily at soup kitchens. The distress fund of the lord mayor of Cardiff has been exhausted and appeals are being sent to other parts of the United Kingdom for aid.

The wives of idle miners are selling and pawning their household effects to buy food. Cases of death from starvation are becoming more and more numerous.

LONDON, May 18.—The first sign of a break in the great British coal strike came today. It was learned from an authoritative source that the Federation of Miners has decided to give up the fight for a settlement upon the principle of a national wage, and is willing to treat with the operators and a government upon the basis of district agreements. If the miners' union gives formal notice of this decision, it will reduce the solution to a question of wage adjustment in the various mining areas instead of attempting a settlement upon a single scale for all miners

Just Folks

Odd, how letters run. For a week now it seems that every person who has written me wants to know how to make bread.

"I want home-made bread and try so hard to make it, but when I have worked and worried with it the neighbor's chickens usually get it," one writes. "My husband loves hot rolls, but I can't seem to make a loaf. Please tell me how," begs a bride, and so on.

I think the best advice I can give to those who really desire to make bread is to buy a bread mixer. They are not expensive, and they will pay for themselves many times over in convenience. And an oven thermometer will hold your hand in the oven and count ten it is right for biscuits," we are told, and there are a whole lot of other rules, but how much simpler and better to get a thermometer and KNOW what your oven heat is.

GET A MOTOR.

Do not get a mixer that is larger than necessary, or the dough will not be well mixed. Then, if it can be arranged at all, get a tiny electric mixer. It will be a lark, cake making a joy, and think of watching ice cream freeze itself, and mayonnaise blend and thicken while you watch it. Well, to return to bread making, with a mixer and a good recipe it will become a routine task, one that will produce almost uniform results. Both compressed yeast and dry yeast are satisfactory. Fresh yeast is an even safer color, unmarred by dark streaks and should break easily.

Use, of course, only the best grades of bread flour and sift it before using. Sugar is not used in bread merely as a matter of taste, but to furnish food for the little yeast plants that furnish the carbon dioxide gas that raises the bread (what a circle). So you see that sugar is necessary. The shortening may be vegetable fat, butter or lard, or equal parts of butter and vegetable fat. Water, milk, or equal parts of both is used for the liquid.

TO MIX THE DOUGH.

Set the bread to rise in the mixer either in the morning or at night. Turn the mixer on and five teaspoons of salt, all level. Pour over these ingredients a quart of scalding liquid—milk, water or milk and water. This will melt the shortening.

In the meantime, mix two small cakes in one-quarter cup of lukewarm water and the softened yeast. Sift member, not hot. When the mixture in the mixer has cooled to lukewarm add the sifted yeast. Sift then measure thirteen cups of bread flour, and add all at once to the yeast and the liquid in the mixer. Turn the handle steadily for three minutes.

Grease the sides so that the dough can readily be removed after it has risen, then cover, wrap loosely around it and place where it is to rise. Allow the dough to double its bulk. Then by turning the handle of the mixer two or three times the dough is pulled up and the sides are better. Lift out. Shape into loaves. It is better to make small loaves than large ones.

BAKE 45 MINUTES.

It should not take longer than three-quarters of an hour to bake. The oven temperature should be 350 F. If rolls are made bake for twenty minutes in a temperature of 425. If the warm crust is rubbed with butter it will be tender. A crisp crust can be obtained by rubbing with the white of one egg beaten stiff. Turn on a rack to cool so that the air can circulate freely around the loaves. The braided rack is splendid for this.

Uncle Wiggily Stories

by HOWARD R. GABRIEL

There's the molasses jug, Uncle Wiggily called Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy one day, as she came to the door of the rabbit gentleman's hollow stump bungalow. "What for?" asked the bunny. "For molasses, of course," said Nurse Jane. "I am going to make some molasses cookies, but I can't without molasses. When you are out looking for an adventure please bring me back some molasses."

"I will," kindly promised Uncle Wiggily. So he put his red, white and blue striped rheumatism crutch through the handle of the molasses jug, and away he hopped.

He did not take Uncle Wiggily very long to get the jug filled with molasses, and then he hopped along to look for an adventure.

He was about a mile from his hollow stump bungalow when, all of a sudden, the bunny rabbit gentleman heard some voices saying:

"Oh, how hungry we are! Oh, for a bit of sweet honey to keep us from starving!"

"This sounds like trouble," thought Uncle Wiggily. "I wonder if I can be of any help?"

He looked through the bushes and, on a green mossy log, he saw a number of little yellow bugs clustered together like flies around the sugar bowl. "What is the matter, my dear bugs?" asked Uncle Wiggily, knowing he had nothing to fear from the little creatures. "We are so hungry," sadly sighed the yellow bugs. "The honey has taken all the honey from the flowers, and there is none left for us. Of course the bees didn't do it, but we are looking for some honey to eat."

"How about molasses?" asked Uncle Wiggily. "I haven't any honey, but I have a jug full of molasses."

"Oh, that will be just lovely!" said the largest yellow bug. "Please give us some of your molasses, and if you can, give us a favor we shall be most happy."

Well, of course Uncle Wiggily never thought some little yellow bugs could ever do him a favor, but you just wait and see. The bunny gentleman poured some of the molasses out on a flat stone and the insects gathered around it and sipped it up as they would have done with honey.

"Oh, how good Uncle Wiggily is!" buzzed the bugs as they sipped the molasses from being hungry with the molasses.

Away hopped the bunny and soon he was at his hollow stump bungalow. "Did you have an adventure?" asked Nurse Jane as she began to make the molasses cookies. "A little one with some hungry yellow bugs," answered the bunny. "That evening after supper when I was just getting dark Nurse Jane gave Uncle Wiggily some of the newly baked molasses cookies to take over to Grandfather Goosey Gander."

Down the path through the woods hopped the bunny uncle, but he was no more than half way to Grandpa Goosey's before, all of a sudden, out from behind a lilypond bush sprang the bad old Fox.

"Oh, ho!" snarled the Fox. "I smell something good of some use in this world after all."

The Truth About Fiction Writing

Chapter XIII.

The Dollar Mark

On what will you have your eye in writing fiction? There is one thing on which no writer can fasten his ambition. This one thing is the dollar mark.

Once you can turn out saleable fiction stories your earning power is increased in direct ratio as you write. The financial reward, strange as it may appear, is this: even of hack writing—particularly of hack writing.

A successful writer should be a good business man. True. But a successful business man must have an idealism. But in these days the business man who skins every sucker that bites at his line does not stay long in business. There is a certain mystery about every story you write. In the very turn and combination of the words you show your character; you express what is in you. It comes out whether you wish it or not, and in spite of you.

Writing a story means creation. The joy of creating is in it. Writing may be hard work—and usually is—yet you sit down to the job with delight. And what is in the back of your mind as you write? You can't afford to be thinking of the money you will get. This will infallibly kill your story.

If writing fiction means to you an easy meal ticket, quit it. More than this must be behind your brain-toil. This idealism talk is the low-down, now! We never know how much of our subconscious self put into every the poorest story. It reflects our inner selves more than we dream.

"Plot" will be discussed by Mr. Bedford-Jones tomorrow.

You cannot afford to worship the dollar, any more than you can afford to clutter up your mind with cheap, shallow and low ideals. The wood alcohol in moonshine whisky destroys the optic nerve of the drinker. Just so, the poison in careless living and thinning destroys the mind's eye of the writer. "As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he." That is horribly true of writing, because it is in your brain shows through what you write, in spite of all you can do.

A case in point is that of a brilliant writer whose mastery of technique and words is wonderful. His short stories are masterpieces. Yet through all he writes, however fine or beautiful, runs a sinister strain. The thing is impossible to define—it simply shines through his work like some hidden vice. Editors and writers have mentioned it to me. They all say the same thing: "What's wrong with that chap?"

Another case is that of a young man who has made a rapid and successful success of writing. He told me that with him it was a case of "get the coin and do the editors if you can." He laughed at all warnings.

I had a look scheduled for publication last June. Along in April he sold the serial rights to a prominent magazine, without telling them that the book was to be published immediately. Naturally, the magazine had no time to publish the story. When the trickery was discovered, however, the magazine and book publisher got together and simply killed the story for keeps.

Don't sully your brain. It is your most delicate tool. What you put into it will come out of it. See, then, that the product comes forth bearing a finer imprint than the milled edge of a dollar mark.

Another look up before you can see the stars.

Holding a Husband

Adèle Garrison's New Phase

REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

Why Dr. Paige Puzzled Madge

I felt like a freed prisoner as Dr. Paige issued his whimsical prescription for a hearty meal and a run through the woods. But I looked apprehensively at my mother-in-law as he spoke.

She had been so insistent upon my remaining in bed and subsisting upon a light diet after my nervous collapse on the train that I did not know how she would receive the physician's dictum. And indeed, I think she would have registered an emphatic protest—for I saw her bridling in familiar fashion—had not Dr. Paige effectually spiked her guns.

"I see you agree with me, ma'am," he said deferentially, "that it's all nonsense to coddle people. But of course Mr. Graham was anxious—we wouldn't think of shaking a husband for so chattering a wife if he didn't try around a bit. But you needn't be a bit alarmed," turning to Dicky. "Yah wife's had a bit of a bad time nervously, but she has almost recovered, thanks to her splendid vitality and yoh mother's care."

"YOUR NAME IS FAMILIAR."

Mother Graham was still bridle as he finished, but with embarrassed pleasure instead of indignation. "I am glad to hear that," she said, "and I resolved to cover her retreat with conversation, not to let her suspect that we remembered her emphatic statements as to diet and rest."

"Your name is familiar to us, Dr. Paige," I said, using the first words that popped into my head. "We were down here primarily to attend the wedding of my dear friend, whose aunt, I believe, is named Paige."

The big physician set down the small case which he had picked up, and gazed at me in pleased amazement.

"So yoh'r friends Edith and Lely have been writing to Aunt Dora about," he said, and then he turned and swung back to his seat.

"I am glad to see yoh-all down here," he boomed, and there was no question of the sincerity of his welcome.

"When you are the girls' cousin," Dicky said, smiling.

A FEAT OF MEMORY.

"Sort of," Dr. Paige admitted. "It's second or third, or fourth—I never can keep track of the degrees the way Aunt Dora does—she has every fact figured out and at a glance. I am glad to see yoh-all down here, the old house when the girls came to visit all through their childhood and girlhood before they went to New York. I made it a point to be thankful. I haven't seen them but once since."

There was an odd constraint in his manner as he uttered the last words which set me thinking. I have a queer little habit of connecting remotely distant bits of conversation or incidents, as one puts together the scattered pieces of a picture puzzle. And something in his manner made me think of the letter of Aunt Dora Paige which Lela had read to me before we came South.

"Sometimes I fear that Edith is unhappy," she had written. "I had hoped—"

Lela had stopped abruptly there. With what Dicky calls "the ground and lofty tumbling of my imagination" there came to me an intuition that in some manner the lives of Edith Fairfax and this "second or third or fourth cousin" had touched romantically.

I stole a furtive glance at him as he looked down at the letter. He was younger than I had thought at my first cursory glance at him. He was so big and assured in his manner, and his hair was so tinged with silver that I had thought him to be before in the staid forties. But as I looked at him more closely I saw that he wasn't much older than Dicky.

He was an unusually handsome, distinguished-looking man, and a man with an undeniable charm of manner. Why had not Edith Fairfax returned the affection he had given her?

I brought myself up with a jerk. I was making a mental rebuke for the lengths to which my imagination had carried me. The man was no doubt prosaically married, with several children, and nothing but common-sense could have led him to look at him more closely I saw that he wasn't much older than Dicky.

The Importance of Healthy Kidneys

In the removal of waste material from the body, the kidneys are called upon to perform a very important duty. The failure of these marvelous and delicately constructed organs to properly do their work means retention in the system of poisonous matter. This poisons the system, and if permitted to remain results in severe backache, headache, torpid liver, constipation and eventually Bright's disease. Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy, a combination of herbs and other healthful ingredients was discovered about 50 years ago, and its value in strengthening the kidneys and liver was at once appreciated. Today it stands as one of the standard remedies in the treatment of diseases of the kidneys and liver. Many persons suffer from diseases of the kidneys unknowingly. The use of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy will invariably improve your health, and make you feel that life is really worth the living.

BETTER PLANNED CITIES IN STATE IS AIM OF MOVE

Unique Educational Plan Is Launched Here By Group of Organizations.

Designed to bring an understanding of the problems of city building to every community of 5000 in population in California, the Merchants' Exchange, University of California and California Real Estate Association will cooperate in an educational campaign unique in America.

Under the direction of Fred E. Reed, president of the Real Estate Association and chairman of the Merchants' Exchange city planning committee, courses in city planning are to be given to each community. The plan calls for formations of groups in the various cities where all who are interested will be invited to attend a series of lectures or classes.

Instructors from the University of California will direct this phase of the work. While the state-wide aspect of the scheme is to be in the hands of the really men, with the aid of the university extension department, the local end will be furthered by Reed as chairman of the Merchants' Exchange committee. Other organizations will be asked to give their aid and arrangements will be made for a series of lectures that will include all phases of city building, transportation, parks, schools, social influences, etc.

PIANIST MASTER OF CHOPIN WORKS

By ROY HARRISON DANFORTH.
A Chopin recital of many charms was given in the blue room at Hotel Oakland yesterday afternoon by Philida Ashley, a young pianist who was formerly of the university colony but who has graduated into a concert pianist of ability and, by now, of wide experience. Yesterday's recital was the second of a series of three, the last one coming two weeks away.

The singular demands of an all-Chopin program, Miss Ashley fulfilled without wavering. Her technique is adequate to the great Pole's rousades and trills as well as to his more substantial underpinnings. She plays with an excellent tone—a better tone than most of the women pianists I have heard, not to be differentiated as to richness or suavity whatever its dynamics. To these she adds an intelligence of apparent breadth and a poetic appreciation which serves particularly well in Chopin.

Out of the extensive program Miss Ashley offered, it is difficult to pick a single masterpiece. There were, perhaps, had a greater appeal than the F major nocturne which was severely and tenderly played with its triplet ornaments more like a series of gentle aspirations than notes. The better known D flat nocturne was a contrasted piece as well played despite the immediate change in style. The pianist was particularly careful of the lovely melody which gives this work its chief charm.

In the G sharp minor étude Miss Ashley succeeded well in divorcing her two hands and in developing some of the best left hand work in her whole program. The berceuse was played with remarkable technical sufficiency. The vigorous conclusion of the A flat waltz, one of the best of Chopin waltzes, was delivered with the "grand manner" and well earned, as did all that preceded it, a generous burst of applause.

It would be of interest to hear Miss Ashley in a more eclectic program, but even this limited one was indicative. She has quite mastered the Chopin idiom which, in brief, is the pianoforte idiom.

Series of "Boost" Luncheons Planned

A get-together luncheon of the United Commercial Travelers of Oakland will be held next Friday noon at Zinkand's restaurant. It is the first of a series of "boost" luncheons to be held by the organization, and will be presided over by I. H. Spuro, president of the Merchants' Exchange. Others of the committee in charge of arrangements include E. Van Antwerp, E. W. Battenhouse, T. Bulger, F. O. Emley, F. C. Borchardt, F. W. Cinnamon, J. B. Greenwood, C. E. Lane and J. J. Mullarky.

Hungry Burglars Are Scared Away By Hughes' Dog

TWO hungry burglars while eating their midnight meal were interrupted when the owners of the house, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Hughes, returned home. When Hughes opened the door he heard the dog bark. They both walked into the kitchen where they found the two men eating.

"What are you doing in my house?" asked Mrs. Hughes. "We wanted something to eat, but if you don't take that dog out of here I'll kill him," said one of the men.

When asked if they had found enough to eat one of the men replied: "Yes, the only thing we want now is to have the dog kept in the other room until we get out of the house."

The dog was put in the outer room and the men backed out of the room with drawn revolvers. Hughes is retired general manager of the Great Northern Railroad and resides at 325 Lakeshore boulevard.

U. of C. Class in Spanish To Open

A room in the Oakland City Hall has been placed at the disposal of the Extension Division of the University of California for classes in Spanish which are to start there Tuesday evening of the coming week. These courses, given by T. S. Romero of Berkeley, are conducted chiefly for the benefit of students who wish to make use of Spanish in foreign trade, and the courses beginning this week are a part of a series of classes which fit the student for mastery of commercial Spanish.

Two classes are to meet in room 213 of the Oakland City Hall, according to the announcement from University Extension offices at Berkeley. An elementary class will start at 7 o'clock and a more advanced class at 8 o'clock. Both classes will meet on Tuesday and Thursday evenings for eight weeks.

Registrations for the classes are being received at the office of University Extension, room 301 California Hall, Berkeley.

'MOP UP WEEK' TO GET 'ARMY' HOME

With half the quota subscribed, the citizens' committee, headed by J. Cal Ewing, in charge of the $50,000 fund campaign of the Salvation Army, inaugurated to assure completion of the new rescue and maternity home here, is confident that "Mop Up Week" will see the entire quota subscribed.

"Oakland and Alameda cannot fall the good men and women of the Salvation Army," Ewing said today. "We have promised to see that the new rescue home is finished and we are going to see it through. Let's get the entire quota within the next few days. The new home for girl mothers is under way. It must be completed."

This morning S. S. Herman, commission merchant, auctioned off the first crate of California cantaloupes arriving in local markets and the money received was turned over to the Salvation Army. The bands of the Oakland fire department and the Native Sons of the Golden West are contributing their services to the new home. The city's downtown streets last night while Salvation Army girls "passed the hat" and secured a large sum.

C. A. Farnsworth, campaign manager, said today that business firms are sending in checks for themselves and cashier's checks for their employees.

HOW TO RAISE BABY CHICKS

Put Avicol in the drinking water

Most people lose half of every hatch, and even to expect it. Chick cholera or white diarrhoea is the trouble. The U. S. Government states that over half the chicks hatched die from this cause.

An Avicol tablet in the drinking water will save your chicks from all such diseases. Within 48 hours the sick ones will be lively as chickens.

Mrs. Wm. May, Reno, Ind., writes: "I was losing 10 or 15 chicks a day from diarrhoea before I received the Avicol. I haven't lost a one since."

It costs nothing to try Avicol. If you don't find that it prevents and controls white diarrhoea, chick cholera and all bowel diseases of poultry, tell us and your money will be promptly refunded. Avicol is sold by most druggists and poultry feed dealers, or send for (includes war tax) for a package by mail postpaid. Hurrell-Dugger Co., 120 Columbus Blvd., Indianapolis, Ind.—Advertisement.

The Painters' Strike Has Not Been Settled!

CONTRARY to statements made by the District Council of Painters, the painters' strike has not been settled. Furthermore, it cannot be settled until the painters abide by the decision of the Board of Arbitration.

Here's the proposition: The painters were being paid $8.50 per day. They struck for a scale of $9.00 a day. The controversy was referred to a Board of Arbitration named by the Building Trades Council, representing the employees in the building crafts, and the Builders' Exchange representing the employers.

Are Covenants of Arbitration to Be Treated as "Scraps of Paper?"

The Master Painters (employers) cannot recognize the arbitrary decision of the painters, without also rescinding the decision of the Board of Arbitration, and thereby branding themselves as untrustworthy, and opposed to settling labor disputes by orderly, arbitration methods.

The Building Trades Council has asserted that it wishes to protect the public. If this is true, why does it sanction a wage scale of $6.40 for shipyard painters, and then refuse to permit its members to work for $8.35 per day for the Master Painters? Why does it sanction concessions made to all large corporations in the matter of wages, yet hold up the rank and file of property owners by demanding $8.50 a day from the Master Painters who serve these property owners?

The Board of Arbitration, after giving full consideration to the problem, fixed the wage scale at $8.35 per day.

The painters, who had gone back to work pending the decision of the Board, promptly repudiated the decision of the Board of Arbitration, and again struck. Now, after being out for about a week, they, the painters, have arbitrarily signified their intention to return to work at the scale of $8.50 per day, which is contrary to the decision of the Board of Arbitration, which all interested parties are honor-bound to uphold.

The people should not be confused by statements that are foreign to the true issue. This matter resolves itself into a simple, but vital question—Shall, or shall not Arbitration Board decisions be respected?

We ask the public to be patient and delay painting jobs until the wage scale has been definitely settled. It is not only the right thing to do, but it will result in greater painting economics.

JUNE FESTIVAL
AT 'HIGHTS,' PLAN
OF PARK BOARDEdwin Markham To Be Asked
To Take Part In Pageant.

A stupendous June festival at Joaquin Miller park is under contemplation by the Board of Park Directors, which yesterday decided to see if the plan is feasible. Play-ground officials and University of California experts will be consulted as to the possible details of the pageant, and then the civic organizations may be asked to participate.

The idea of the pageant followed the news that Edwin Markham, the poet, is in the bay district. If it is possible to have Markham participate in a festival at the home of his old friend, Joaquin Miller, then the pageant is assured.

"There can be no more glorious spot for such a festival than 'The Heights,' where the people can look down on all Oakland," says Dr. F. H. Herick of the board. "It could not only be made for Oakland but for everybody. A festival overlooking the bay, the Golden Gate and all this vast country would be a matter to arouse nation-wide interest."

"Of course the plan is only tentative," says Dr. S. H. Butcher, "and it depends upon the initial interest. If the people want the pageant we are eager to start the enterprise. Suggestions will be welcomed, but be sure, however, that such a magnificent spot will draw the attention of people from all over."

The board yesterday communicated with Samuel Hume of the University of California to get his opinion. The pageant, it is admitted, also depends upon the acquiescence of Edwin Markham. Efforts will be made immediately to see if the great poet can be induced to come.

As an index to the popularity of the Joaquin Miller park, the park board yesterday received a petition with 414 signatures, asking for a drinking fountain there. Of the petitioners, many come from Sacramento, San Francisco, Los Angeles, and even from Waverly, Mass., and New Rochelle, N. Y.

The City Council will be requested for funds in the coming budget to care for the drinking fountain.

The park directors also decided to ask for $25,000 in the coming budget to complete the band stand in Lakeside park. The band stand had cost $43,681 so far, and the final amount will finish the roof and all the other necessary parts.

All Arts Club Plans
Its Summer Program

The summer program for the All Arts Club, which includes in its membership musicians, painters, sculptors, architects, dancers, writers, dramatists, decorators, art craftsmen, will begin May 25 with the exhibition of arts and crafts of the Polytechnic School of San Francisco, under the direction of C. E. Bushnell.

A dinner is announced for May 27 at the San Francisco restaurant. A program will follow a brief business session. Mme. Lucille Joulin-Benjamin will open her home on June 12 for a "picnic at the beach," which will feature a bon fire.

Charles Kester and Francisco Cornejo will entertain the club later in the season. Musicians of the association will contribute the program to Cornejo's exhibit of Aztec and Maya art at the California School of Fine Arts in July under the direction of Leah Hopkins.

Plans for club rooms, an art store and musicians' bureau are taking shape.

Trestle Glen Will Give Final Concert

Hundreds of hikers, nature lovers and residents of the Eastbay cities will attend a farewell band concert in Trestle Glen next Sunday afternoon.

The concert will be held under the famous Trestle Glen oaks and will be given by fifty of Director Paul Steindorff's musicians. It will begin promptly at 2 o'clock.

Trestle Glen has been converted into a residential subdivision despite pending efforts of the municipal authorities to acquire it as an Oakland public park. The Glen has long been a favorite outing place and the Sunday ceremonies will be attended by those who regret its private ownership.

Archeologists believe that even in the stone age direct maritime relations existed between northern England and the distant counties to the south.

"Orient" Not Cupid's Playground

A six months' stay in the Orient with not one proposal of marriage is the record of pretty Miss Elizabeth Hanna, who has arrived in the bay cities on the "Golden State."

MARK HANNA'S
NIECE RETURNS FROM ORIENT

Offering her experiences in Miss Elizabeth Hanna, granddaughter of the late Marcus A. Hanna, sweet sixteen, possessor of an independent fortune and as charming as she is pretty, arrived on the Jiner Golden State after a six months' stay in the Orient with a record of not one proposal of marriage.

Miss Hanna will look you in the eye and with a dazzling smile solemnly aver that she did not find the eligible Americans in the Orient one-half as handsome as reported and that there were too many attempts to pay much attention to charming visitors from America.

Miss Hanna is a daughter of D. R. Hanna of Cleveland. After a short stay in California she will proceed to New York and thence to Washington. During her sojourn in the Far East she visited the principal places of interest, accompanied by her chauffeur, Miss L. F. Woodward of Salt Lake City.

Officers Elected
By Student Body

SANTA CLARA, May 18.—At the annual election today of the Associated Student Body of the University, Thomas Crowe, '22, Tulare, Calif., was elected president for the college year of 1921-22. Crowe is a student in the College of Letters and Science, as well as the Institute of Law.

Other officers elected are George L. Hinchey, '22, Honolulu, T. H. secretary; Thomas J. Bannan, '22, San Francisco, treasurer, and Porter Kerekhoff, '22, Covina, Calif.

JAPANESE NEVER
ARE AMERICANS,
SAYS LEGION HEAD

No Place in This Country For Any Dual Allegiance, Says
Commander Fitts.

"There is no place in this country for people with a dual allegiance. This was the declaration of Furon I. Fitts, commander of the American Legion, department of California, last night at a joint meeting of the American Legion posts of Alameda county at the clubrooms of Oakland Post No. 5.

"Those people are not Americans and never can become Americans. I refer particularly to the Japanese. They are loyal to their own country and claim allegiance to this country. By reason of their dual allegiance we have no place for them here and under no circumstances can we make a place for them here."

LEGISLATION REVIEWED.
Fitts reviewed the work of the state legislature and spoke at length on the various bills passed for the benefit of the Japanese. He painted a picture of the battlefield of the graves that it left in its wake to illustrate the principles for which the war was fought.

"It is because of these tremendous sacrifices we made and of the principle for which we went to war that the American Legion can not and will not tolerate radicalism and I. W. Wism in this country. We will fight it to the last ditch as we fought the enemy on foreign lands, and we'll fight hard."

In discussing the labor question as it affects the Legion, Fitts said: "The American Legion stands absolutely neutral in disputes between capital and labor. Our ranks represent all our meetings, bankers, millionaires, brick layers and common workmen meet in a common cause. They are ex-service men, members of the Legion, and therefore same comradeship that existed during the war is yet in existence within the ranks of the Legion. There is no other body of men in the world that is composed of every class and every creed. It is hard to believe by some, yet it is true."

NEW ADJUTANT NAMED.
Following Fitts' address a program on entertainment was rendered, which was followed by dancing.

During the business meeting of Oakland Post No. 5 which preceded the general meeting, Frank Coolidge was nominated for adjutant, to take the place of W. T. Hopkins, who has resigned.

At 6 o'clock yesterday evening the state commander was the guest of honor at a banquet at the Hotel Whitecourt in Berkeley, which was attended by Legion members and city officials. John P. Brennan, commander of the Berkeley post, presided.

Woman Asks Permit To Enlarge Store

BERKELEY, May 18.—Appearing in behalf of his aged mother-in-law, Fred Platt, 1023 Grant avenue, appeared before the city council yesterday and asked that Mrs. Hannah Robinson, 67 years old, be allowed to extend a store owned by her at Grant avenue and Cedar streets.

At the present time Mrs. Robinson's store is located in a class 1 district, allowing no business properties but those already in existence and forbidding the extension of stores already existing. A petition from Mrs. Robinson asking that the district be re-zoned in class 2 to meet her situation was received with objection on the part of other property owners.

That his mother-in-law has been in business at her present location for thirteen years and has no other means of support was the plea of Platt before the council yesterday. The council has taken the matter under advisement for one week.

VAGRANT SENTENCED.
Dennis Solomon was sentenced to 120 days in the city prison by Police Judge Edward J. Tyrrell after being found guilty of a charge of vagrancy. He was arrested on May 9 by Police Inspector Peto Van Houtte as Solomon was getting on a street car. According to the police, Solomon is well known in this state as a pick-pocket.

Women Welcomed As Berkeley Boosters

BERKELEY, May 18.—The work of women as boosters was recognized last night by the South Berkeley Commercial club at its annual banquet held in South Berkeley hall.

For the first time in the history of the organization, women were admitted as guests to the banquet, a committee of five women of the South Berkeley "Boosters Club" taking an active part in arrangement for the event.

As the principal feature of the evening, officers were installed for the coming year. An entertainment was given by local talent. George W. Webb, president for the past year, relinquished the gavel to Roy H. Douglas. A feature of the banquet was the fact that everything served during the evening was purchased in South Berkeley.

MOTHERS' CLUBS
PROTEST EARLY
SCHOOL CLOSING

Committee Will Confer With Council in Request For Larger Budget.

Protests against the early closing of the schools were made yesterday at the annual meeting of Oakland Federation of Mothers' Clubs. This body of 2000 mothers framed a resolution authorizing a special committee to confer with the council when the budget is being prepared with a view of having funds appropriated to carry the schools through the year.

Phases of the problem advanced by speeches were: The injustice of extending a 40-week course into 35 weeks; the hardship on teachers whose annual salaries will be cut from $100 to $160; the turning of children out of the classroom for three months; the problem of sending students from the elementary into the high schools, lacking the preparation afforded in the two additional weeks.

Mrs. Jack C. Walker, president of Hawthorne Parent-Teacher Association, introduced the question. She said in part:

"No business man would close down his office for any length of time, even a day for lack of funds if his business showed progress. Salaries and budgets should be leveled ahead for the full school period that 40,000 school children may not be thrown upon the streets for vacation of eleven weeks. Children need vacation, but let us not swap their education with an overdoing of the education idea. Where there is a cry of lack of funds there is not good business management. A way open to us to avoid such a situation is the curtailing of school work is to ask the city council to prepare against it with a proper budget."

Peter J. Kramer, Federation president, will appoint the special committee which will appear before the commissioners protesting the closing of schools on a 35-week basis and have schools will close June 6, re-opening August 22.

Flour Is Asked For Near East Distress

The "Esther Dollar" will sail from this port June 6, bearing a cargo for Near East Relief. What will you send to the thousands who are starving for food or the armies of children who are dying of malnutrition, the Oakland division of the relief organization which has been incorporated by act of Congress, asks.

"Say it with Flour," is its public appeal.

Twenty-five hundred barrels of flour have been ordered milled from California wheat at a minimum cost of $6.50. Who will send a barrel of flour, a half barrel, a quarter barrel, or a few pounds. Gifts of money for relief and the sending of California products overseas may be sent to local headquarters, 12 Bacon building, telephone Lakeside 3943.

Two hundred and fifty pounds of beans have also been ordered to be sent by the Robert Dollar company. San Jose is sending ten tons of prunes, Iowa, tons of corn; Portland and Seattle are promising their share. Oakland is asked for a quota of flour to the general store of foodstuffs.

William Nat Friend is chairman of the local commodities committee on Near East Relief. Among those who are assisting him in collecting the flour fund are Wallace M. Alex-

Optimist Club Gets Its Charter; Given Welcome

At a banquet attended by 159 business men of Oakland and San Francisco, the new Oakland Optimists' Club received its charter from W. R. Marshall, director-general of the seventh district of the International Optimists Club Association, at the Hotel Oakland last night. The charter was received on behalf of the club by R. C. Bitterman, its president.

The officers elected at an organization meeting two weeks ago were installed as follows:

R. C. Bitterman, president; D. C. Duncan, first vice-president; A. Caldwell, second vice-president; Arthur Bekins, secretary-treasurer; Abe Simpson, sergeant-at-arms; E. B. Simpson, Thomas Lloyd, William H. Barry, Dr. Curtis Wherry, D. A. Sargent and Norman B. Campbell, board of governors.

ADDRESS OF WELCOME.
The program included short addresses of welcome on behalf of the various business men's organizations of the city by H. C. Capwell, Abe P. Leach, C. W. Cooper, F. H. Woodward, H. S. Henion and Joseph J. Rosborough.

Capwell told of his faith in the future of the Eastbay district and the need for organizations which would spread such faith. Leach invited the Optimists to attend the meeting of the Kiwanis Club on June 6 at which William Spruille, president of the Southern Pacific company will speak on the railroad situation. Cooper promised the co-operation of the Mutual Business Club in the furtherance of movements for civic betterment. Woodward challenged the Optimists to a baseball game against the Lions Club team. Henion welcomed the new club on behalf of the Progressive Business Club. Rosborough promised the co-operation of the Oakland Rotary Club in all matters of progress and public interest.

Bill Slinger was toastmaster. An address of welcome was delivered by Bitterman to the large delegation of San Francisco Optimists who were in attendance and B. S. Hubbard, president of the San Francisco club responded.

VISITORS ARE PINED.
In his response Hubbard pinned every San Franciscan present $1 to start the Oakland club's "Big Brother Fund" for charitable purposes and thus more than $50 was raised.

In an address on the value of optimism, Rev. A. P. Simpkin of the Phillips Congregational church of Salt Lake City, bid the new club Godspeed and declared that "there was never a time in the history of the world when optimism was needed as it is today."

The entertainment program included tenor selections by Charles Ray Cortsen of the Oakland Bank of Savings, selections by Orley See, violin virtuoso, recitations by Lew Cole, cowboy entertainer, steel guitar numbers by Gus Haeleop and Walter H. Richards, and jazz music by Shirley Snow's Rainbow Six.

The invocation was delivered by the Rev. Francis J. Van Horn, who gave thanks for a city "in which we can be optimists."

"An average of 100,000 letters a day passes through the outgoing section of this office and the first of the month about 160,000 letters are canceled. There are 22 trains, all carrying mail, leaving this city between 10 30 a. m. and 5 30 p. m., so in carrying out this postal service you become the beneficiaries and an otherwise tremendous task is simplified by uniform handling of the mail throughout the day."

"Practically all the business mail of Oakland now reaches the post-office between the hours of 4 p. m. and 8 p. m. Twenty-four hours of work has to be crowded into half that time. On the other hand, if mail is deposited in the boxes or brought to the postoffice continuously during the day, all the trains could be fully employed, as well as the clerks in the main office, and the business public would secure the delivery of its mail many hours earlier than at present."

"We are aware that it is a difficult thing to change the fixed and settled habits of business houses, but, when the benefits alike to the public and the postoffice are so obvious, old habits must give way to the pressure of new conditions."

BOXER ROBBED
AFTER KNOCKING OUT ASSAILANT

Ad Cramer Victim of Three Thugs, Who Lay in Wait in Garage.

Ad Cramer, local boxer, staged a real fight shortly before midnight with three hold-up men in the garage at the rear of his home, 2917 East Twenty-fourth street.

While Cramer was looking over the machine after his family had gone into the house some one hit him in the back of the head with a blunt instrument. As he was falling to the ground he was hit the second time with the same weapon. Cramer picked himself up quickly and with one punch knocked one of the bandits to the ground, but the other bandit hit him over the head with a blackjack and he was felled again in a dazed condition. The third bandit, who was acting as lookout, then joined the other two. They took $50 from Cramer's pockets.

As the bandits were leaving Cramer reached into his machine and got his revolver, firing three shots. One of the bandits cried "Help! He got me!" One of the hold-up men fired three shots at Cramer as they were walking down the street, but all went wild.

ROBBED THREE TIMES.
T. K. Yamadera, owner of a laundry at 1502 Market street, reported to the police this morning that his office has been robbed three times within the last three days. Entrance has been gained each time for forcing a side window. The first time the burglars took $12 from the cash register, on Monday they took $4 and last night $2.

The United States Department of Agriculture has a trap for codding moths which has proved highly successful in destroying the pest.
